JEFFERSON COUNTY GETS THE CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION

William Orlando Smith of Punxsutawney Is Nominated by the Republicans of the Twenty-Seventh District.

CONGRESSMAN JACK MADE THE SELECTION POSSIBLE

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

Punxsutawney, Pa., Sept. 9.—William Orlando Smith was today unanimously nominated by the Republicans for congress in this, the Twenty-seventh, district. His selection came on the fourteenth ballot and was made by Indiana and Clarion voting with Jefferson county. Armstrong then agreed to the nomination. Maj. Joseph G. Beale indorses the action of the conference, but is angry with Congressman S. M. Jack, who, he claims, treated him shamefully.

The selection of Mr. Smith is well received in the district. He is one of the ablest young Republicans in the state. The nomination is a good thing for the ticket in Jefferson. It needed strength and his candidacy will insure the election of every candidate and a greatly increased majority for the state nominees. In the district it is estimated that his plurality will not run below 5,000 and may go to 7,000. Two years ago, in a presidential election, the counties of Armstrong, Indiana and Jefferson gave Congressman Jack a plurality of 2,000. With Westmoreland's vote this was run up to something over 13,000. Clarion now takes the place of Westmoreland in the district. Two years ago it gave J. K. P. Hall, Democrat, a plurality of a trifle over 500.

Beale Sought Delay.

Maj. Beale, the candidate from Armstrong, was the only aspirant for congress who wanted the selection of a candidate left to the state committee. Jack of Indiana, Smith of Jefferson and Francis J. Maffett of Clarion were desirous that the conference do the work. The nomination had to be made today or tomorrow, for after that time the state rule would become operative.

From early this morning it was a settled fact that Smith would win. Maj. Beale did all he could to prevent a nomination at this meeting. He requested Jack to agree to an adjournment. The major thought that if he could secure delay he could get the nomination. At 9 o'clock this morning the conferees cast eight ballots, but were unable to make a selection. On all of these ballots save one the entire vote of Indiana was thrown to Beale. Jefferson and Clarion also exchanged some compliments. At the close of the balloting the candidates were requested to get together. Jack, Smith and Maffett did so and Beale was unable to break the combination.

Indiana and Jefferson are in the same senatorial district. Two years hence Senator John S. Fisher of Indiana will ask for a re-election. At the same time Smith will be hunting a second term in congress. In addition to this, there has been an understanding that if Jack could not be nominated Indiana would support Smith. Clarion and Jefferson have close political ties. It is also probable that Clarion's action today was taken with an eye on the future. When Smith has rounded out four years in congress it would not be surprising to see Judge Harry R. Wilson of Clarion make a determined effort to succeed him, with good prospects of success.

Clarion Made the Break.

Shortly before noon the final meeting was held. On the 13th ballot Beale threw his vote to Jack, making him six; Jefferson voted for Smith and Clarion gave Smith one and Moffett the other two. On the final ballot Clarion led off with three votes for Smith, Indiana and Jefferson followed, voting solidly for Smith, and the nomination was made. Armstrong cast three votes for Jack and then the nomination was made unanimous.

The candidates and visiting friends were invited into the conference. President S. M. Jackson announced that Mr. Smith had been nominated and called in the nominee for a speech. Mr. Smith said:

"I thank you most sincerely for this nomination. It is an honor of which any American citizen might be proud. I thank you not only for myself, but on behalf of Jefferson county, which I believe will show its appreciation by giving an increased majority for the whole Republican ticket. However out of proportion my ambition may have been, I have long had a desire to go to congress, and I am profoundly grateful to everybody who has assisted in placing me on the sure road—the nomination in a district with a large majority of loyal Republicans.

"It would have given me pleasure to participate in the nomination of any one of the other gentlemen whose names were submitted to this conference, but under the circumstances I could not afford to be magnanimous. Jefferson, now the largest in population of any county in the district, has had but four years of representation in congress by Republicans residing within her borders since the organization of the county in 1804, and naturally our people were growing a little apprehensive lest Jefferson had in some way gotten off the map. Besides, this is the third consecutive time I have had the indorsement of the county, and if I had failed to secure the district nomination this time I would have been reluctant to ask it again for fear of placing too heavy a tax upon the patience of my friends.

Mr. Smith Is Modest.

"While I do not expect to cut any particular figure in congress, I will endeavor to vote right and help to sustain the policies of the great Republican party, by whose wisdom the country has been kept in the paths of progress and national glory for nearly half a century. I will also endeavor to be as useful as possible to my constituents. Should I be able to maintain the high standard of faithful and efficient service fixed by my immediate predecessor, Mr. Jack, I will feel that there is no proper cause for complaint on the part of the people of the Twenty-seventh congressional district."

Congressman Jack said that he had hoped for another term, but was well satisfied with the nomination of Mr. Smith. He pledged a good majority from Indiana. The congressman also expressed regret that he could not help more than one candidate at a time. The remark did not appease the anger of Maj. Beale.

When Maj. Beale was called upon, he was greeted with loud applause.

"I would rather have your votes than your applause," said he, by way of introduction. He congratulated Smith and promised him loyal support in Armstrong. Then he turned his guns on Jack for about a minute. He said that the gentleman from Indiana had treated him shamefully, claiming that on two former occasions he had helped to nominate Jack, and was expecting there would be reciprocity. The major says that he will get even with Indiana if it takes the remainder of his life. Mr. Jack says that Beale is too hasty and harsh. Maj. Beale has been endeavoring to secure a congressional nomination for 28 years.

Mr. Moffett extended his congratulations and promised good work for the ticket in Clarion. Col. Jackson also assured Mr. Smith that Armstrong would give him an increased majority.

The Democratic Situation.

The Democrats of this district are without a nominee. R. M. Matson of Brookville had been nominated, but last week declined. Effort will be made to get a Clarion Democrat to accept the nomination in the hope that the county ticket will be strengthened.

Mr. Smith was born in Reynoldsville, June 13, 1859. He received his education in the public schools and then learned the printing trade. For a time he was editor of the Reynoldsville Herald. After that he worked in the government printing office for six years. While there he was one of 10 men who established the Washington Craftsman and was its associate editor. In 1884 he returned to this county and edited the Tribune and Spirit in Punxsutawney. In 1889 there was a vacancy in the legislature and he was elected. He was re-elected in 1890-92-94-96. With the exception of a brief period in 1891, when he edited the Bradford Era, he has been the editor of the Spirit.

AGUA DULCE HAS FALLEN, AND NOW COLON IN PERIL

Rebels Expected to Go North and Take the Panama Railroad.

HAITIEN ADMIRAL PROBABLY DEAD

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Panama, Colombia, Sept. 9.—The surrender of the government Gen. Morales Berti and about 2,000 troops of his command at Agua Dulce has been confirmed. This news reached Panama today.

Four revolutionary war vessels are now in the bay of Panama, and the revolutionists are reported to be moving toward the railroad. The government is straining every nerve to protect Colon. A great battle is expected soon.

Gen. Berti, who had been besieged at Agua Dulce by the insurgents since July 28, surrendered only when his cause was hopeless. The insurgent general, Benjamin Herrera, promises to hold inviolate the lives and honor of the prisoners, and he allows Gen. Berti to retain his sword as a mark of honor. The surrendered generals and officers have been paroled.

It is believed in government circles that the surrender of Gen. Berti simplifies the situation for Gen. Salazar, governor of Panama, who can now devote the forces of his command to the defense of Panama and Colon.

The strong entrenchments which have been erected in and around Panama are defended by 2,500 men, and there are over 1,000 government soldiers at Colon. A dispatch was received today from the minister of war at Bogta saying that a large number of reinforcements had left Ronda on the Magdalena river for the isthmus, and 2,000 more men are expected to come in this week.

Gen. Herrera is expected to change his field operations to the isthmus, and he probably will locate his camp somewhere on the railroad line between Panama and Colon.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The consul general of Venezuela has received the following cable dispatch from President Castro: "A fierce battle was fought today at Finaquillo in which the revolutionary army under Gen. Luciano, Mendoza and Rivera was completely defeated, thus insuring national peace."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 9.—Mr. Powell, United States minister to Haiti, has cabled the state department that he has a report that Admiral Killick and two of his officers went down with the Crete-a-Pierrot recently sunk near Cape Haitien by the German gunboat Panther.

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—The attitude of the American press regarding the sinking of the Haitien rebel gunboat Crete-a-Pierrot by the German gunboat Panther, gives great satisfaction here.

HIS ILLNESS CAUSED BY HIS WIFE'S DEATH

George A. Kelly of Pittsburgh More Improved Than at Any Time Since Collapse.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

STOCKBRIDGE, MASS., Sept. 9.—With the knowledge that the collapse of George A. Kelly of Pittsburgh at the Red Lion inn here, Friday, was due to the nervous shock resulting from the death of his wife a month ago, treatment of his case has been carefully arranged, and now he is much improved. Every effort has been taken to secure perfect rest and quiet of mind for him, as it is recognized that any recurrence of the attack will be exceedingly dangerous.

At 9 o'clock this evening Mr. Kelly was in the best condition since the attack. He had slept well during the afternoon and early night, in fact, he slept well for the first time, and he showed signs of increasing strength.

This morning the two sons of Mr. Kelly, George and Samuel, to your correspondent said that undoubtedly the shock attendant upon the death of their mother induced the illness of their father. They were hopeful that he will pull through, but they acknowledge fear of another attack, which might come on without warning. For this reason they are remaining near at hand every moment.

DE FACTO HEAD DID NOT EXIST IN PITTSBURGH

Sweeping Decision of Court May Lead to Many Law Suits.

JUDGE STOWE SAYS CITY HAD NO MAYOR

Acts of W. J. Diehl After March 7, 1901, Declared to Be Illegal and Void.

RAILROAD WINS OWING TO EQUITY INVOLVED

"But here there was no office of mayor to be filled. The act of March 7 abolished it from that date and it had ceased to exist, therefore he (Mayor W. J. Diehl) could not be a de facto officer and his approval amounted to nothing".

This is the conclusion of law arrived at by Judge Edwin H. Stowe in the equity suit of James Keeling, for himself and other property owners, against the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Drake & Stratton Company, in which his honor declares that every ordinance signed by William J. Diehl after March 7, 1901, the date of the approval of the ripper bill by the governor, although no recorder had been appointed, was without effect, and that any other act of Mr. Diehl as chief executive of the city of Pittsburgh has no significance and is illegal and void.

The decision is sweeping and of wide effect in that it may require curative legislation to make many of Mr. Diehl's acts legal, and may lead to litigation in hundreds of matters acted upon by Mr. Diehl under the assumption, so believed by the Pennsylvania railroad, that he was mayor de facto pending the appointment by the governor of a recorder for the city of Pittsburgh. His honor declares that the abolishment of the office abolished the claim of any incumbent upon it, and that where there is no office there can be no "de facto officer" in the same.

A Suit in Equity.

The equity suit was brought by Attorneys J. M. Shields and W. S. Thomas to enjoin the Pennsylvania railroad and the city of Pittsburgh from vacating South Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets from Jane to Sarah streets, from occupying and using the northerly 12 feet of Jane street and from erecting a retaining wall along Jane street from South Thirtieth to the easterly line of South Thirty-fourth street.

Keeling alleged that he was the owner of a lot in the McClurg plan of lots originally laid out in the borough of Ormsby; that certain thoroughfares had not been opened to the public; that the city of Pittsburgh had passed an ordinance on April 8, 1901, which was approved by W. J. Diehl, claiming to act therein as mayor, on April 10 of the same year, authorizing the proper officers to enter into and execute a contract in the name of the city with the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railway Company, whereby

Town Is Terrorized by Negroes and Death May Result.

COLORED MEN ARE DRIVEN TO WOODS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, Pa., Sept. 9.—The death of Robert Gilmore will probably result from a desperate race riot at Finleyville, this county, which occurred this afternoon. Gilmore's assailant was a negro giant who is known as "Big Six." He made his escape, pursued by an infuriated mob. There were 20 men involved in the riot.

A party of negro laborers employed in grading the trolley line projected from Finleyville to the Monongahela river came into the town about noon and were very disorderly. Five of them entered Mike Hayden's saloon and became insulting to a number of white men, one of whom was Gilmore. The negro "Big Six" addressed an insulting epithet to James Doyle and a fight resulted, which soon became general. The negroes were all armed and drove the whites into the street.

Gilmore secured a club and started to go back into the saloon. He was met on the step by "Big Six," who fired a revolver at him when he was only a yard away. The ball struck Gilmore in the jaw and lodged in the back part of his head. The wounded man fell to the ground unconscious. A crowd gathered in a few minutes and the excitement ran very high.

The negroes left the saloon hurriedly, going along the principal street of the town with their revolvers drawn. In a short time the mob of whites started to capture the assailant of Gilmore. When

MORGAN SAID TO HOLD OUT OLIVE BRANCH TO MINERS

Alleged Result of Conference With P. A. B. Widener, Representing Gov. Stone, Held in New York Yesterday.

A RUMOR THAT JUDGE GARY ALSO ACTED AS GO-BETWEEN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 10.—The North American this morning says J. P. Morgan has assented to a plan proposed by Gov. Stone of Pennsylvania for ending the coal miners' strike. The plan, according to the North American, was submitted to Mr. Morgan yesterday by P. A. B. Widener of this city.

The plan in brief is for the mine workers to return to work without a signed agreement; that the operators, by concessions, adjust the differences existing between the men and the companies; that if, after waiting a reasonable time, the operators fail to do this, an arbitrator be appointed, and that if the men deem the decision of the arbitrator as unjust, then the men can again go on strike.

The paper also says Gov. Stone immediately telegraphed President Mitchell for a conference, and that the meeting between the governor and Mr. Mitchell will take place probably today.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Sept. 10.—President Mitchell early this morning said he had received no information from Gov. Stone with reference to a conference. As far as he knew the strike situation was unchanged.

New York, Sept. 9.—"Attorney General Elkin, Senator Flinn and myself have been in consultation for several hours today with P. A. B. Widener of Philadelphia, who is a director in the United States Steel Corporation, and who is associated with Mr. Morgan in many business enterprises. Mr. Widener is very anxious to see the strike settled, and today took the matter up with Mr. Morgan. We are doing all we can."

This statement was made this afternoon by Gov. Stone as he was leaving the offices of the United States Steel Corporation, where the consultation he mentions took place. Gov. Stone's manner plainly indicated his expectation that, with the help of J. P. Morgan, the coal strike will be speedily ended.

"What progress was made at the conference?" he was asked.

"I can say nothing more," was his response.

"Have you been in direct communication with Mr. Morgan?"

"I have nothing further to say."

Judge Gary Alleged Go-Between.

Indications were not lacking, however, that Gov. Stone and the others were in direct communication with Mr. Morgan and Judge Gary, chairman of the executive board of the steel combine, is said to have been the "go-between."

After the conference mentioned by Gov. Stone had lasted an hour Mr. Widener went to see J. Pierpont Morgan at Mr. Morgan's office and asked him to use his influence to end the strike. Ten minutes later he returned to his fellow-conferees and told them that Mr. Morgan had declined to interfere. Mr. Morgan's partner, Mr. Perkins, said:

"Mr. Morgan did not see Gov. Stone today. He did have a conference with Mr. Widener, but he has no statement to make relative to the coal strike."

When it is considered that "Mr. Widener is very anxious to see the strike settled and today took the matter up with Mr. Morgan," Wall street feels assured that the end of the trouble is not far away.

Governor Sought the Conference.

About 11 o'clock Gov. Stone entered the Empire building, where he inquired of the elevator man the location of Charles M. Schwab's office. Mr. Stone and his companion were taken to the 18th floor and entered Mr. Dixon's office. When a reporter inquired a few minutes later if Gov. Stone was there it was said he was not; but almost at the same moment Mr. Stone himself chanced to come to the door of Mr. Dixon's office to bid goodbye to a friend who was leaving. The governor hastily drew back when he saw visitors in the outer room.

Before leaving the Fifth Avenue hotel in the forenoon Gov. Stone wrote the following statement in the reading room:

"I am here on private business. I expect to return to Harrisburg today. I am as anxious to see the strike in Pennsylvania settled as anyone can possibly be. I can only repeat what I have said in previous interviews, that if I could be satisfied that the legislature would pass a law that was constitutional and that would settle this strike and prevent others I would not hesitate to call it together; but I must be satisfied that such a law would be passed."

The governor came into the hotel corridor about 9:15 o'clock. His tall figure attracted a great deal of attention. He was immediately surrounded by a group of newspaper men, who began to ply him with questions.

"I am here on a shopping trip with my wife. I have nothing to say about the coal strike, and I am not here for the purpose of trying to settle it," he said.

He was asked if he had any appointments with any of the coal operators, and he said he had not.

Gov. Stone took a train for his return to Harrisburg tonight.

Operators Have Little to Say.

George W. Perkins, speaking for J. P. Morgan & Co., said tonight: "We have no comment to make on Gov. Stone's statement. We have received no official statement as to what occurred at the conference, nor have we heard from Gov. Stone since the conference was closed; nor have we anything to say on the strike situation."

President George F. Baer of the Philadelphia & Reading and Jersey Central railroads, President William H. Truesdale of the Lackawanna, and President Thomas P. Fowler of the New York, Ontario & Western railroad, had an informal conference. After it was over President Fowler said the situation had been gone over thoroughly in an informal way. Mr. Fowler emphatically declared that there was no change in the attitude of the operators and that nothing could end the strike but the unconditional surrender of the striking anthracite miners.

Later in the day, when Gov. Stone's statement was submitted to President Fowler, he sent out word through his secretary that he had no comment to make on the statement and did not even care to learn of its contents. President Baer went back to Philadelphia.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—When President Mitchell was informed tonight that there was hope of the strike being ended through the office of J. P. Morgan, and that he might hope to hear from Mr. Morgan soon, he was deeply interested. He would say only:

"I shall be glad to meet Mr. Morgan or anyone representing the interests of the operators and confer with him regarding an honorable settlement of the strike."

President Mitchell denied emphatically that the coal strike had been declared off.

"You can quote me in the strongest terms," he said, "that the strike is still on. I have received no proposition from the other side, and I have made none to the operators. All I know of any negotiations to end the strike I have read in the newspapers. The strike is still on and will remain so until declared off by the mine workers in convention. It is up to the operators."

The Party Reaches Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Gov. Stone, Senator Flinn and M. K. McMullin arrived from New York this evening. Attorney General Elkin, it was said, remained in New York and would come over on a late train. His friends announced that Gov. Stone went through to Harrisburg. He could not be found at any of the hotels.

Ex-State Senator John S. Weiler and Representative George Hosack met Flinn and McMullin at the Hotel Walton. A representative of John Wanamaker also greeted Flinn and informed him where he could meet Wanamaker or his political representative and report on his strike-settling visit to the coal officials.

"All I wish to add to the statement made by Gov. Stone," said Senator Flinn to The Gazette correspondent, is this: 'I was invited by the governor to join himself, Attorney General Elkin, P. A. B. Widener and others in a conference, the purpose of which was to ascertain what steps might be taken to bring about a settlement of the coal miners' strike. Gov. Stone, knowing that I am a large employer of labor and familiar with the differences which at times exist between employer and employe, said he wanted the benefit of my experience and judgment. I consented to go, and we met Mr. Widener and others in New York today."

Nothing Added to Stone's Story.

"What encouragement did you receive?" was asked.

"I will not add to the governor's statement. Stone covered all that will be given out at this time."

"Did you meet J. Pierpont Morgan?"

"No."

"Some profess to believe that the meeting today means that Stone, Elkin and yourself have induced P. A. B. Widener to again run for the United States senate in opposition to Penrose. Is it true?"

"I won't discuss politics," said Flinn with a laugh. "I am out of politics."

As the senator started for the Wanamaker rendezvous, I asked: "This move was made to embarrass the efforts of Senators Quay and Penrose, who have tried to end the strike—a sort of a counter irritant, is it not?"

"There is no politics in it, and I will not take up the question of 'counter irritants' at this time. I told you I was out of politics, did I not, and you know I never lied to you, did I?"

The senator then left to keep his Wanamaker engagement.

"In my opinion the prospects of a settlement are growing brighter every day," said Mr. McMullin. "I think the strike will be settled by mediation—not political, but industrial or commercial mediation. The weather conditions will be an important factor. The strikers will be forced to make some concessions, and public opinion, backed by a cold wave, will compel the operators to meet them half way. I do not wish to say that peace will be declared tonight or tomorrow, but it is near at hand."

Mr. McMullin concurred with Senator

Flinn in saying that Gov. Stone's statement contained all that it was necessary to make public at this time.

Stone-Flinn Play Believed to Be More Politics Than Honest Effort to End the Strike.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 9.—While there is an absence of authoritative information, opinion is unanimous that the Stone-Flinn play today was made to embarrass, if not to checkmate, the peace overtures of Senators Quay and Penrose, who had a conference with President Baer on September 5.

Resolutions providing for the appointment of a committee of seven, to take up the matter with state officials, were adopted. Chairman Quay will appoint this committee on his return from the Adirondacks. He is due here tomorrow.

Gov. Stone's move today indicates that he does not intend to work in harmony with Chairman Quay and the Republican state committee; that he has made a combination with Widener, Flinn and Wanamaker, and that he desires the insurgent Republicans to receive any credit which might attach to his efforts.

Concurrent with the spectacular junket of the governor is the springing of the Widener senatorial boom. Advices from various towns tonight are that Widener has decided to enter the senatorial race. Insurgents are sponsors for the statement, and great is their enthusiasm.

Neither Mr. Widener nor President Baer, who were in the city this evening, would say anything about the New York city conference.

ROOSEVELT CAUTIOUS.

He Will Take No Action Without the Request of Both Sides to the Controversy.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 9.—A guest of President Roosevelt during a part of his trip through Ohio, when asked today if the Pennsylvania coal strike was discussed, said it was. The president deplores the present condition, but does not see how he can take any part in adjusting the difficulty. Any interference on his part, except by request of both parties, would be construed into a threat to use the great power of his office to coerce one side or the other. If he were asked to, the action would be interference, and not arbitration.

If both sides should make the request that the president should select an arbitration committee, he would be glad to do so; but he could not give his personal time to investigation of the subject, to the end of arriving at a just conclusion. If such a request should be made, with the agreement that the miners should be permitted to return to work pending the decision, and both sides to abide by the finding of the committee, the finding to be effective from the time the men went to work, the president would be glad to select such a committee.

Unless both sides shall make the request voluntarily, he will not feel at liberty to interfere in the matter.

MAY TALK TOMORROW.

Gov. Stone Then Will Meet Public Alliance Officials on Subject of an Extra session.

HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 9.—(Special)—Governor Stone had very little to say about his New York trip when he returned at 10:50 tonight with Mrs. Stone.

"What are the prospects of settling the strike?" the governor was asked.

"Oh, I don't want to say," replied the governor. "I am doing all I can to bring it to an end, but I do not care to talk about it."

"What was the purpose of Senator Flinn in talking up bond in your efforts to bring about a settlement of the differences between the miners and the operators?"

"Flinn is a business man, and I invited him to go with me to discuss the situation with Mr. Widener. Flinn employs 10,000 men and has never had a strike. I had an idea that he might give Mr. Widener the benefit of his experience as a business man and large employer of labor."

The governor is expected to give his views at his meeting on Thursday with a committee from the Public Alliance, which has an engagement to meet him and ask him to call an extra session of the general assembly for the enactment of compulsory arbitration legislation that will end the strike.

the negroes saw them coming they fled, taking to the hills. They were pursued for half an hour, but were lost sight of.

Coroner John J. Fitzpatrick happened to be in the town at the time, and he hastily sent word to the police all over the county to be on the lookout for "Big Six." He is very black and 6 feet 3 inches in height. He is a well-known character and is desperate. It is not believed that he can make his escape.

Physicians endeavored to find the bullet in Gilmore's skull, but could not. It is not believed he can recover, as he almost bled to death. Gilmore is a coal miner, 24 years of age. He was released from the county jail a few weeks ago after serving a sentence for aiding Fred Skees to break out of the Finleyville lockup a few months ago.

MONONGAHELA, PA., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Officer Conley of Courtney this evening arrested two negroes, one of them answering the description of the negro who shot Gilmore. The prisoners were taken to Finleyville tonight. They gave their names as Benjamin Wheeler and George Martin.

WILL NOT CONTEST.

County Chairman Robertson Says Machine Will Not Fight Citizens Nomination of Pennypacker.

A. C. Robertson, chairman of the machine county committee, arrived home yesterday from his trip in the west. Robertson is ready to open the campaign, and, after consulting the candidates, will announce soon the program for active work.

"I don't think the organizations will begin court proceedings to prevent Pennypacker from heading the Citizens ticket," said Mr. Robertson. "In my experience I have found that court proceedings usually react upon the organization bringing them.

"I do not intend to get into a controversy with Recorder Brown," added Mr. Robertson, when told that Mr. Brown had intimated that Robertson would not exert himself much in the campaign. "I am going ahead as a Republican and will make the best fight in my power for the Republican party."

MAY BOLT DALZELL.

Democratic Congressional Committee Appointed and Will Meet This Afternoon.

Whether the Democrats of Allegheny county will accept the entire fusion ticket will probably be known when the committee provided for by the Democratic county convention holds its first meeting at 3 p. m. today. The committee was appointed yesterday by W. J. Brennen, chairman of the convention. Charles A. Pagan, Henry Meyer and Dr. M. E. O'Brien are the appointees.

A movement is on foot among Democrats to have the committee decide against the congressional fusion ticket. All the candidates on that ticket are Republicans, and a demand for at least one Democratic congressman is made. There is talk that the committee may turn down Congressman John Dalzell.

Democrats have told leaders of the Citizens party that it will be hard to line up the Democratic voters to accept Dalzell and that it will be advisable for the Democrats to put a man on their ticket against him. Dalzell has fought the Democratic party in congress a long time.

It surely is an enterprising move for the New Exposition to offer for 25 cents admission the great Sousa band, with Estelle Liebling as soloist.

You must come early tonight if you would secure a seat in New Exposition music hall to hear Miss Estelle Liebling sing.

When you hear Miss Estelle Liebling sing at the New Exposition tonight visions of the great Sembrich and Melba will haunt you.

BEAVER VALLEY NOW CALLS FOR DEEPER RIVERS

Popular Meeting Expresses a Determination to Get Them.

DRAVO SAYS IRON CITY'S GROWTH AT STAKE

Vast Quantities of Building Stone Awaiting Better Shipping Facilities—Needs to Be Ready for the Panama Canal.

By EDWARD C. SYKES,
Staff Correspondent.

Beaver Falls, Pa., Sept. 9.—A rally was held at Junction Park tonight in the interest of river improvements. Although the night was cool 500 enthusiastic citizens sat in an open pavilion and listened to the speeches of the river improvement boomers.

Citizens of the Beaver valley have started a movement to improve the Beaver river with a system of locks and dams and they will ask congress to furnish the money. They also desire the government to build a system of locks and dams on the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo. Beaver Valley people assert that enough stone can be taken from the hills of the valley to build the locks. Valuable minerals are also hidden away in nature's storehouse. The entire valley is demanding water facilities to move the vast commerce in sight to the markets of the world.

This afternoon a delegation composed of Capt. John F. Dravo, John Reeves, A. M. Jolly, R. R. Hice, A. A. Atterholt, A. R. Leyda, R. M. Moffatt and John A. Elliott made a tour of the Beaver river, starting from North Beaver Falls, and went up the stream as far as Morado park. The cruise was made in the launch Beaver.

Surprised by River's Depth.

The members of the party provided themselves with lead lines and measured the depth of the water.

They were surprised to find 18 and 20 feet of water in many places above the dam at Beaver Falls. Great stone quarries are situated along the stream, and from the hills 1,000,000 tons of stone are annually taken. Some of the men comprising the party boated years ago on the old Beaver canal, but never until today did they know of the Beaver river's great depth on that portion which is slackwatered by dams built entirely across the river without the locks essential to the navigation of craft. Large boats could be run in these pools.

Capt. Dravo said after his trip of inspection that there is sufficient harborage in the Beaver river to store all the coal mined from the hills of the Monongahela Valley in any one season.

A. A. Atterholt officiated as temporary chairman of the meeting. He read a telegram of regret from Congressman R. W. Taylor of Lisbon, O., who was to have been at the meeting, but was detained in Cleveland. Letters of regret also were read from W. S. Shallenberger, second assistant postmaster general, and J. B. Showalter of Butler.

Delegates to Association.

Mr. Atterholt announced that the following delegates had been elected to attend the Ohio Valley Improvement association convention to be held at Parkersburg, November 11 and 12: M. L. Knight, John A. Elliott, C. W. Kline, Beaver Falls; T. L. Kennedy, B. McDaniels, New Brighton; Stephen B. Stone, W. B. Dunlap, M. Mulheim, West Bridgewater; C. C. Noss, George J. Schmidt, Rochester; R. Hice, H. H. Newkirk, R. E. Fallon, Beaver; Capt. John H. Dippold, Capt. Calvin Blazier, Baden, Capt. John McDonald, Dr. J. R. Lockhart, Freedom.

Capt. John F. Dravo was elected permanent chairman of the meeting and gave a rousing, old-time talk on river improvements. In the course of his remarks he said:

"Pittsburgh has reached the zenith of her industrial growth and prosperity unless she can find an outlet for her vast tonnage. We derive our prosperity from this empire of human industry, and our future demands great facilities for handling freight. Unless Pittsburgh doubles her facilities for handling freight, she cannot grow in the future as she has in the past. The Ohio must be improved to guarantee her continued prosperity.

"We want the government to give us a nine-foot stage of water the year around, and with this great inland canal the continued growth of the valley is assured. We want the Beaver river improved, so that we can ship our limestone and sandstone to Pittsburgh and Wheeling, as well as to other markets by water without depending on the railroads exclusively."

New Castle Favors Improvements.

Capt. M. S. Marquis of New Castle said the citizens of his town want the Beaver river improved, and estimated that 12 locks and dams would have to be constructed from the mouth of the Beaver river to New Castle to give them the desired water transportation. He said the river, no doubt, could be improved as far as Youngstown.

John Brown of New Castle said he was glad the newspapers are agitating river improvements. When he referred to Capt. Dravo as the father of a free Monongahela river, there was great applause. He wants the Ohio river improved because what is of benefit to Pittsburgh is of benefit to the Beaver valley.

James Francis Burke of Pittsburgh said:

"Even our present industrial conditions demand a slackwater system for the Allegheny, a canal that will join the lakes with the Ohio and the perfection of the Ohio slackwater system to that stage which will invite the cargo-laden vessels of the world to plow her waters. To my mind, since the passage of the isthmian canal legislation, there is no project engaging attention of the American people that is of greater importance than that which brings us here tonight. 'With the isthmian cry, from Pittsburgh to Panama,' let the work begin and as our Ohio slackwater system is perfected new mines will open, new fields blossom with golden grain, new temples of industry will scale the skyline along her banks, and Cairo and Pittsburgh will soon be linked together by a chain of industrial cities, the roar of whose furnaces and the throb of whose mill wheels will be the bugle note and the drum beat to which the commercial forces of the world will be keeping step as we march down the centuries to our glorious destiny."

Sentiment of the Meeting.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The conditions of freight transportation in the Pittsburgh district and the Ohio and Beaver valleys show that the present river and railroad facilities for moving freight are entirely insufficient to meet present demands, and consequently manufacturers are handicapped and merchants inconvenienced and developments restricted and future expansion endangered. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the conviction of the citizens of Beaver county here assembled that the time has come when these untoward conditions which menace the happy prospects of the wonderful industrial prosperity for the Ohio valley be changed by improving the natural sources of commerce within our reach and securing for the Ohio and Beaver valleys for all time the grandest waterway for transportation the world has ever seen.

Second—That the only permanent and complete relief to the congested freight condition of the Ohio valley and the Pittsburgh district is by means of slackwater navigation of these rivers, a great natural waterway which can be made permanently navigable at a nine-foot stage, at an estimated cost of from $50,000,000 to $25,000,000, a sum so small in proportion to the utility of the improvement as to shame all opposition into silence.

Third—That we are in hearty sympathy with the "On to Cairo" movement and pledge ourselves to work unitedly and unceasingly with others of the lower valley to promote this good work by petitioning congress in behalf of it, and in instructing our representatives and requesting our senators to secure the passage of such legislation as will enable the work to be completed within the time contemplated for the construction of the Isthmian canal, so that the present generation may be able to see something of the glory of the future and reap a portion of the harvest their hands have sown.

Fourth—That we urge, in connection with the improvement of the Ohio, the importance of making the Big Beaver river navigable from its mouth to Beaver Falls and as far beyond as may be practicable. It is believed that this work can be done without much additional expense, as the stone taken out of the bottom of the river bed could be used in the construction of the dams in the Ohio river.

Fifth—That we are proud of the fact that the most able and prominent advocates and promoters of this great national improvement are representatives of Beaver county and we point with pleasure to their record as a guarantee that Beaver county is ready to do her part in aiding this important and extensive improvement.

All towns in the Beaver valley were represented at the meeting. New Castle sent a large delegation, including Capt. M. S. Marquis, John G. McConahy, W. H. Kay, F. L. Rentz, F. L. Long, J. McCleary, John B. Brown, S. P. Emery and George W. Johnston.

DE FACTO HEAD DID NOT EXIST IN PITTSBURGH

the said railway company may elevate and change the elevation of a part of its line within the limits of the city, build a retaining wall along the northerly part of Jane street from South Thirtieth to the easterly side of South Thirty-fourth street; construct an overhead foot-bridge across its Ormsby yards along the line of South Thirty-third street, and an underground foot passage, and that the city should vacate South Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets from Jane to Sarah street, and a portion of Jane street.

Contract Entered Into.

This contract was entered into between the railway company, W. J. Diehl, George W. Wilson, director of the department of public works, and Controller J. E. Lewis, and the railway company proceeded to build its retaining wall and make its improvements at a cost of $1,500,000.

Keeling alleged that this action on the part of the city abrogated his rights; that two of the streets had never been opened; that he owned an interest in Jane street and that the retaining wall and vacation of the streets worked a great injury to his property.

He alleged that W. J. Diehl's action was illegal; that the office had ceased to exist with the passage of the Ripper bill, and that the agreement was not for the benefit of the city of Pittsburgh, but for the railroad company, and was a gift to the railroad company without any advantage or benefit to the city or to its citizens; that certain of the streets were not public highways because they had never been opened, and that the defendants had not acquired the consent of the plaintiff to vacate the streets.

The railroad company, in its answer, filed by Patterson, Sterrett & Acheson, alleged the act was legal because Mayor Diehl was acting in such capacity "de facto;" that the streets were public highways because they had been traveled for more than twenty-one years, and that, even if the acts of Mr. Diehl as mayor were illegal, the approval of Recorder A. M. Brown was sufficient to make the ordinance a legal one.

Diehl's Act of No Effect.

Judge Stowe held that the acts of Mr. Diehl were of no effect, but found against the plaintiff because of the delay of the intervenors, the magnitude of the work done and the public interests involved in avoiding grade crossings, when contrasted with any injury that might possibly have been done the plaintiffs, the considerations which prevented a court of equity from granting an injunction, even if it is clear the plaintiffs have a strict legal right. He said the ordinance did not need the consent of Mr. Diehl or Recorder Brown at that time. The court further states:

"It is here urged by counsel for the defendants that the approval by Diehl acting as mayor was sufficient, because, while it turned out afterwards that he had no legal right to hold office at the time, he was actually mayor 'de facto,' and as such his acts as mayor cannot be set aside, but must be recognized.

Must Be an Actual Office.

"But with this suggestion we cannot agree. The doctrine recognizing the validity of the acts of officers 'de facto' is based upon the ground that there is an actual office in existence, of which the incumbent is exercising the powers and performing the duties." He then used the opening quotation of this article and went on:

"Under the said act the recorder became the chief executive officer of the city. He was vested with the powers and duties of justice of the peace, but nothing appears in the act giving him the right to participate in the legislation of councils, or requiring his concurrence in or approval of any ordinance passed by them, except that he might disapprove of any item of any bill making appropriations."

The plaintiffs are preparing to take an appeal to the supreme court.

DISMISSAL IS DENIED.

Court Decides Against Motion of United States Steel Corporation in Hodge Case.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 9.—Vice Chancellor Emery today denied the application made by R. V. Lindabury, counsel for the United States Steel Corporation, for an order to compel the persons who made affidavit in the suit of J. Aspinwall Hodge and others against the steel corporation to come into court to be cross-examined. The vice chancellor also denied the motion made by Mr. Lindabury to dismiss the bill and have it stricken from the files of the court as an imposition.

The vice chancellor said: "The rule is established, I think, that where the only method of protecting or asserting a property right of a complainant is in a court of equity, the court cannot refuse to decide or hear a complaint upon a question of right merely because of his improper motive in the prosecution of his rights. That the motive of a complainant in prosecuting an equitable property right is to be bought off is not a reason for dismissing a case and refusing to try a question of right. The complainant is entitled to have the question of such alleged equitable right tried."

Vice Chancellor Emery further held that, no matter what the complainant's motive might be, if his property rights were equitable, he was entitled not only to a hearing, but to protection by preliminary injunction pending a decision. Up to the time of a decision in the Berger case, the vice chancellor declared, the Hodge case cannot be considered false or unfounded, nor would inquiry as to its motive be material.

LEISHMAN COMING HOME.

United States Minister First Secures Promise from Turkey of no Delay in Settlements.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 9.—United States Minister Leishman at Constantinople has informed the state department that he will depart at once on leave of absence, placing Spencer Eddy, secretary of the legation, in charge of American interests.

It is understood that Mr. Leishman has secured satisfactory assurances from the porte that there should be no further delay in the adjustment of the various questions which have been the subject of negotiation between the American minister and the Turkish government for many months past. This does not include the Stone case, for it is said that in the absence of knowledge of the exact facts connected with this famous kidnaping case the state department has not submitted any formal claim for reimbursement of the ransom, being unable yet to determine with what country the responsibility lies—Turkey or Bulgaria.

TO MEET IN PITTSBURGH.

Congressional Conferees of Butler-Westmoreland District to Convene Here.

BUTLER, PA., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Dr. J. M. Leighner, chairman of the Republican county committee, was notified this afternoon by Senator Quay that the meeting of the conferees in the Butler-Westmoreland district to nominate a candidate for congress would be held in Pittsburgh next Thursday at 2 o'clock, under the rules recently adopted.

Congressman Showalter said today that he would not recognize the rules and would not appear at the meeting with his conferees.

THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF M'KINLEY'S DEATH.

Next Sunday will be the first anniversary of the death of William McKinley, the martyred president, and in order to stimulate public interest in the anniversary and the observance of it Recorder Brown has issued the following proclamation:

To the People of Pittsburgh:

Whereas, Next Sunday, September 14, is the anniversary of the death of the late President William McKinley; and,

Whereas, Both in the tragic manner of his taking off and in the singular fortitude with which he composed himself to submission to the will of an overruling Providence, he made upon his deathbed as pronounced an impression on the civilized world as he had previously done by his upright Christian character, his broad, far-seeing statesmanship and his unsullied integrity of both public and private life;

Therefore, I deem it a most becoming suggestion that in all the churches of this city, as in those of a large number of other cities, at the regular hour of divine worship next Sunday morning, there should be an hour or half hour of special memorial service in honor of this eminent Christian patriot, the well-beloved president, who in his lifetime was no less loyal to his faith than to his country, and whose many virtues will continue to inspire the readers of our national history long after the passing of generations yet unborn.

It must be profitable to us as a people to devote upon this particular anniversary a short time to the contemplation of a career so exemplary, and I, therefore, as chief magistrate of the city of Pittsburgh, respectfully recommend to the various clergy and congregations of the city that we testify our appreciation of the value of such a life as President McKinley's to humanity, in the manner and at the time already suggested.

J. O. BROWN, City Recorder.

ASSAULT ON REPP WAS FOR REVENGE

POLICE THINK JEALOUSY CAUSED THE ATTACK.

Was Just Opening Doors at East Liberty Station When He Was Struck Down.

Considerable mystery is connected with the assault on Robert M. Repp, the agent at the East Liberty station on the Pennsylvania railroad, which occurred yesterday morning at the railway station. Repp is in the East End Charity hospital, suffering with concussion of the brain, and the physicians express great doubt of his recovery.

The East End police and Detectives John Roach and William Bradley are working on the case, but there is no clue to the perpetrators. Repp's condition during the day was so serious that the detectives were unable to talk with him. It is believed that the motive of the assailant was personal revenge, on account of jealousy, and not robbery.

Repp is 22 years old and came from Johnstown about three weeks ago. He is married and has been boarding at No. 506 Frankstown avenue. It was his duty to open the station before daybreak and sell tickets for the early accommodation trains. Repp reached the station about 5 o'clock yesterday morning. He was stooping to lay his lunch basket on the pavement while he opened the door. While bending over he was struck on the head. He was rendered unconscious, and when he regained his senses he was in the hospital. This was all the information he was able to give the officers.

Repp was found about a half hour later by James Simeon and James Wintry, who were on their way to work. Wintry remained with Repp while Simeon went to No. 6 police station.

When Repp fell on the pavement the keys to the railroad station fell under him. His pockets are said to have been rifled by the thugs, but they took nothing from him. Repp asserts that he has been followed a great deal of late by three suspicious men. He reported the matter to the police and inspector Gray detailed officers to look for the men. Nothing was ever seen of them and the officers gave up watching.

The police and detectives were last night of the opinion that Repp felt a victim of some jealous motive. A letter was found in his possession from a girl who addressed him in endearing terms. They believe that his assailant was some unfavored rival.

ROOSEVELT COMES NORTH.

The President, Returning to the Capital, Making Frequent Stops to Speak to Crowds.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt's special train tonight is speeding northward to Washington. It stopped at several places en route in this state to enable the president to address the multitudes gathered to greet him.

The first stop was at Hot Springs, and the next at Asheville, which was reached at 9:50 o'clock this morning. The president was escorted to Courthouse square, where 5,000 children sang "America."

The president spoke of the pleasure it gave him to speak before the monument of the late Senator Vance, which is near the stand. He repeated his sentiments expressed yesterday on the subject of good citizenship. The president was given three hearty cheers.

At Connelly Springs Mr. Roosevelt said: "It always happens that a good year for crops is a good year for weeds. When we have prosperity, some people for whom we don't much care prosper more than others, but it is a great deal better that some people should prosper too much than that none of us should prosper at all. The gospel of intelligent hard work is the gospel that pays."

At Greensboro, where he was introduced by Congressman Blackburn, the president said:

"The things that divide one American from his fellow-American are very small compared to the things that unite them. A difference of section, a difference of party, is of no concern if we can develop decent citizenship in this country, and to do that we need as the foundation, but only as the foundation, industrial prosperity."

THREE NATIONAL CONVENTIONS MET

WORK BEGAN FOR ALL YESTERDAY.

Yesterday was the first day of work for the three national printing trades conventions. Organization was effected, reports heard from officers and a start made upon the subjects that will occupy the attention of the assembled Typothatae, Photo Engravers and Electrotypers.

Much interest attached to the meeting of the United Typothatae of America at the Schenley. The subject under discussion was the proposed new contract between the Typothatae and the pressmen, by which all disputes shall be referred to a board of arbitration, whose decision shall be binding upon both parties. The contract was prepared by a committee from each organization. A long and earnest discussion was carried on in executive session. The matter was referred to the meeting tomorrow morning for final decision.

Ready for Business.

At 9:30 yesterday morning the delegates assembled. The address of welcome was made by Theophilus Sproull and the answer by the Hon. J. J. Little of New York. Next followed the annual address of the president, H. P. Pears of Pittsburgh. Then came the report of the secretary, Edwin Freegard of St. Louis, and after that the executive committee's report. Part of this last was the proposed contract between the Typothatae and the pressmen, to the discussion of which the afternoon session was devoted.

President Pears reviewed the work of the year, stating that it has been one of unusual prosperity. He referred to the need felt by some of revising the constitution so that the association will be stronger and more compact and ready to enforce its rulings. Reference was made to the defense and emergency funds and to arbitration as a means of settling disputes between employer and employe.

Printing Trade Good.

In the report of Secretary Freegard is a summary of 34 answers to questions sent throughout the country inquiring into the condition of the printing trade, of the number 29 reported good business and prospects four fairly good, and only one as "quiet."

The ladies spent the morning at the Carnegie Institute. The party of 115 visited the art gallery and under the guidance of Miss Lapsley, assistant to Director Beatty, were shown the permanent collection of paintings and statuary. Today will be occupied by a morning business session and an afternoon carriage drive throughout the East End. One of the features of the convention is a daily edition of The American Printer, edited by John M. Forbes, associate editor.

Two Other Conventions.

The National Association of Electrotypers, which is meeting at the Henry, held its first business meeting yesterday morning. About 50 delegates were present when the meeting was called to order by President Frank C. Clark of Cleveland. The committee on credentials was appointed and a little routine business transacted. There was no afternoon meeting.

The National Association of Photo-Engravers held its first meeting at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Many of its delegates are members also of the electrotypers' association. W. J. Barr, president of the Pittsburgh association, welcomed the national body. The reports of the credentials committee, of Secretary Charles J. Wolfram and Treasurer E. D. Moeng were heard. The annual address of the president, John C. Bragdon of Pittsburgh, was the last feature of the program.

The ladies with the delegates to the two associations spent the afternoon in a ride in chartered trolley cars to the Heinz pickle works in Allegheny. Last evening the whole party went to the Exposition. The program today includes drives in the parks and East End, in the forenoon, a business meeting in the afternoon and a joint banquet at the Henry this evening.

DUPUY GAVE BOND.

Many of the flint glass factories have started and others are preparing to do so. The wage scale has been satisfactorily adjusted. The four large factories of the Macbeth-Evans Glass Company, at Fairmont, Ind.; Charleroi, Marion, Ind., and on the South Side in this city are expected to start on Monday. Pots will be set in the Charleroi plant tomorrow. The Charleroi plant has four big furnaces and one of the largest continuous tanks in the country. The total number of persons employed in the four factories of the Macbeth-Evans company is 2,800, of whom 800 are skilled workers.

THE RUSSIAN INVADERS GET FIRST BLOOD

Retake a Captured Gun and Wipe Out a Cavalry Detachment of Defenders — Sausage-Shaped Balloons and Field Wires.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Frankfort-on-the-Oder, Sept. 9.—The war maneuvers began today. Sausage-shaped war ballons swung high in the air. The artillery, of which the invading Reds ("Russians") and the defending blues have each about 100 pieces, came into action and there were sounds of irregular firing along the far-extended fronts.

Emperor William, as umpire of the maneuvers, visited both sides. The foreign guests were attached to the Reds, or the invading Russians. The American visitors, Maj.-Gen. Henry C. Corbin, Maj.-Gen. Samuel B. M. Young and Brig.-Gen. Wood and their aides and others were the new drab fatigue uniform of the United States army, which, among so many brilliant and highly colored foreign uniforms, were quite distinctive. The emperor looked the American officers over closely and told Gen. Corbin he thought their uniforms were sensible and in good taste. He took Gen. Young with him on a trip inside the lines of the Blues, and his bearing toward the Americans in every way was most kind.

Today was spent by the contending armies in playing for position. It was an artillery duel, with occasional brushes between cavalry. The infantry never got into action.

The German army of defense captured one gun from the Russians, but this was immediately retaken by the invaders. A cavalry detachment of the Blues fell into the hands of the invaders, who at the end of the day had gained the superior position and were ready to push forward.

Field telegraphs spread fan-like from the headquarters of each commanding general to the extended fronts, and on nearly every elevation was established a telephone station.

Emperor William will lodge tonight at the castle, where the empress also is staying. He is not using his automobile, the empress having made him promise not to do so because of her fear arising from the recent large number of automobile accidents. Several of the general officers did use motor cars today for quick transfer from one part of the field to another.

THE ORCHESTRA WILL DUPLICATE SEASON

At Every Place It Appeared This Summer Pittsburgh Orchestra Was Re-Engaged for Next Year.

"The Pittsburgh orchestra, all the members of which have been re-engaged for the full coming year, will fill the same engagements as this year. This is the first time in the history of such musical organizations in America that such a re-engagement has been possible," said Victor Herbert, its director, at his home last evening. Mr. Herbert returned yesterday to Pittsburgh, after an absence of four months with the orchestra. During that time he filled engagements of several weeks each at Baltimore, Buffalo, Willow Grove (Philadelphia) and finally at Saratoga, where the engagement was for five weeks. Mr. Herbert comes back in the gala days of rest. He spent last week at Mt. Clemens, Mich., where Mrs. Herbert has been during the summer.

"It has been a great season for Saratoga and a more cosmopolitan crowd never gathered," he says. "All sections of the country were represented and people from those parts where the Pittsburgh orchestra has never played have heard its music and gone away pleased. It has brought a great deal of very valuable advertising to the orchestra.

"The full orchestra of 73 pieces will gather in Pittsburgh late in October and prepare for the opening of the Pittsburgh engagement in November. There are still 25 of the organization at Saratoga under the direction of Paul Henneberg, my assistant.

"It had been hoped that the orchestra could take an European tour after the coming season, but it will have to be postponed for a year at least. "We are engaged for all the coming year," he said. "If, however, such a trip were made I am confident it would be a success, as well as a novelty to the Europeans, who have seen as representatives of American music only the crack military bands."

The remark made two years ago by Mr. Carnegie in New York that the Pittsburg orchestra should tour Europe, returning by Skibo castle, has not been forgotten and the hope has been held quietly since that the ironmaster would put up the $50,000 necessary for meeting the cost of the tour.

Victor Herbert says that he has no important musical composition now under way, but that he expects to write a new opera for Alice Nellsen for use when she returns to this country next year. It will be remembered that Miss Nellsen made great successes of "The Singing Girl" and "The Fortune Teller."

"It is remarkable how few stars in comic opera there are to write for," says Mr. Herbert. "About the only one beside Miss Nellsen that can be claimed for the American stage is Lulu Glaser, the Pittsburgher."

BIG REVIVALS TO BE STARTED HERE

PRESBYTERIAN EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS.

They Will Be the Greatest Ever Known in That Church. Workers Selected.

Beginning the latter part of this month the greatest evangelistic movement in the history of the Presbyterian denomination will be launched in this city and surrounding towns. The movement will be in charge of the general assembly's evangelistic committee, of which the Rev. Dr. J. P. Calhoun of this city is a member. Dr. Calhoun announced yesterday the names of the permanent workers for this section. They are the Rev. W. S. Miller, the Rev. Cyrus R. Hatch, Evangelist A. H. Naylor and the Rev. H. H. Ryland. The last named will have special charge of the districts outside the city and in parts of West Virginia. Meetings will be held in the weaker churches throughout the two cities. The movement is to be launched in one of the big downtown churches.

To stimulate interest in the movement a general conference of the presbyteries in Western Pennsylvania and parts of Ohio is to be held here in the second week of November. The general assembly's committee, headed by John H. Converse, will come to this conference. It will then be decided how to secure the remainder of the $250,000 fund necessary to prosecute this work. The evangelistic movement is to embrace the United States. The faculty of the Western Theological university is to be invited to the general conference in November.

"The committee proposes," said Dr. Calhoun, "to make this an event in the history of Presbyterianism. The workers selected for this district have already been notified. They will hold meetings in halls, schools, churches or wherever they are needed. Those named are released from pastoral relations and will give themselves to this movement under the committee's instruction."

To aid the movement the presbyterial committee of the Pittsburgh presbytery will send two or more ministers out for a month at a time. Among those already appointed is the Rev. John M. Gaston of the Hazelwood church.

ST. JOHN'S ATTACKED.

Allegheny Councilmen Opposed to Public Aid for a Hospital.

At the monthly meeting of the committee on public works of Allegheny councils, last night, Dr. Andrew Easton, John H. Trimble and John A. Born attacked the resolution authorizing the city recorder and the director of the department of public works to enter into a contract for the city to supply St. John's General hospital with electric light for one year for $1.

Mr. Trimble said he had heard many complaints that the hospital is run almost solely in the interest of a few corporations and that few, if any, charity patients are admitted. Mr. Born said he doubted that the hospital is anything but a private institution. The resolution was laid over.

NEGRO SHOT DEAD.

Game of Craps Ended in Death in Butler County.

BUTLER, PA., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Joseph Simms, colored, shot and instantly killed a colored man named Scott at the new steel town, Lyndora, tonight and appears to have made his escape. The two men were shooting craps at one of the shacks, where the negroes board who are employed by the Standard Lumber Company. The remainder of the inmates were in bed.

Scott was getting the better of Simms in the game, when the latter shot Scott through the heart. The report of the gun put out the light and Simms coolly relighted it, put on his shoes and walked out. The inmates of the house notified the officers here.

COUNCILMEN ARE THREATENED BY JOHN S. LAMBIE

He Intimates That Absentees' Seats Will Be Declared Vacant.

ASKED CLERK TO MAKE OUT A LIST

Select Council Again Failed to Get a Quorum Yesterday. President Lambie Refers to an Old Rule That Is Not in Use.

President John S. Lambie of select council has called up a bogie. In select council chamber yesterday, as he faced only 10 members in their seats, by innuendoes he threatened the members who were not present with all sorts of things. "Mr. Clerk," he said, while the lobby trembled, "prepare me a list of those members of select council who have not been present for two stated meetings." When asked what he intended to do to punish absentees, and what authority he had to punish, he majestically brushed aside the interrogatories, and said, "Search the rules of councils. You will find my authority there." But no one has found it.

Another unsuccessful attempt was made yesterday by select council to have a meeting. Only 11 members were present. On Monday afternoon the branch attempted to hold a meeting, but 22 members were absent and the branch adjourned until yesterday afternoon, when 27 members were absent. The branch again adjourned until 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Meanwhile, President Lambie is threatening dire things against those who were not present, but it has been found that the rule under which he threatens them was abolished by the committee on rules as early as April 2, 1888.

Effort to Keep Out an Ordinance.

"What do you expect to do with the absentees?" President Lambie was asked.

"I am not saying what I shall do," said the chair, "but you look up the rules of councils and you will find what I can do with them. I have reason to believe that certain members of this body are purposely absenting themselves from these meetings. There is a remedy in the rules of councils and it will be applied. I was told this morning that the Citizens party members of this branch are preventing meetings to keep me from introducing a certain railroad ordinance. That is contemptible. I am willing to have President Crawford of common council select any of his men in this branch to present the ordinance. People who break rules had better be careful."

President Lambie went to his law office, where he was found later in close perusal of the rule upon which he is hanging his hopes of punishing his recreant members. He would not permit any one to see the rule, and refused any information about it.

The Rule Is Dead.

The rule upon which Mr. Lambie hangs his hopes has been as dead as Julius Cæsar since April 2, 1888. It was one of the rules after the enactment of the city charter in 1887, until the date given above. The rule is as follows: "Any member of councils absenting himself without leave from two consecutive stated meetings, the same shall be taken and considered as a resignation of his office, and upon the councils' attention being called thereto, they may declare the vacancy, and direct notice to the mayor in order that an election shall be held to fill the same."

Late in the winter of 1887-88, a resolution was presented in common council by A. C. Robertson, then a member of that branch and now an assistant city solicitor, for the appointment of a committee of seven to revise the rules. This committee duly reported, and on April 2, 1888, the report of this committee was adopted. The rule quoted was dropped from the list, and councils have had no such rule since that time.

The two stated meetings referred to by Mr. Lambie were the meeting of Monday afternoon, and the last regular meeting before that, which was held on June 30. On the latter date there happens to have been a large attendance, only eight members having been absent, as follows: Frederick Fitchel, George S. Fleming, C. J. Gallagher, Evan Jones, W. J. Rothweiler, John Upperman, John H. Voskamp and J. S. Wightman. Four of these are machine men, three are Citizens and the eighth does not affiliate with either of the factions. Those who were present yesterday were: Atkinson, Benz, Douglas, Fitchel, Murphy, Platt, Ruhlandt, Schneider, Voskamp, Zahniser and President Lambie.

The Reason for It.

Attempts to learn the reason for the alleged concerted action of the Citizens members remaining away from the meeting have proven futile. All disclaim knowledge of any agreement. It was said yesterday that the action is for the purpose of preventing a meeting of select council until another meeting of common council is held. The attorneys for the Wabash and the Pennsylvania are drawing general ordinances to be introduced, covering the general provisions under which railroads shall do business in Pittsburgh and containing a reimbursement clause. President Lambie has the ordinance which comes from Wabash auspices, and that from Pennsylvania auspices is said to be in the process of drafting to be introduced in the common branch by a Citizens member.

MISS LIEBLING TO SING.

She Will Appear With the Sousa Band at the Exposition This Evening.

A surprise that is certain to find hearty appreciation has been planned for new Exposition patrons in the appearance tonight of Estelle Liebling, colorature soprano soloist, and as large numbers of the Exposition's visitors find it quite impossible to be present for the opening numbers of the 7:30 concert, and thus would miss Miss Liebling's first solo, the latter has been deferred until 9:30 o'clock and immediately following the intermission. The Sousa band will furnish Miss Liebling's accompaniments.

The attractive powers of the new Exposition were never better evidenced than yesterday, when despite the inclemency of the weather, a four-sized audience was present during the afternoon and a surprisingly large one in the evening. Practically all the concerts tomorrow will be given up to the works of Pittsburgh composers.

COURT'S MANDATE WAS NOT OBEYED

FILTRATION PLANT ESTIMATE IS NOT TOTAL.

Judge Buffington Decided No Work Could Be Done Until Full Cost Was Known.

The machine administration has not yet complied with the decision of Judge Buffington of the United States court announced in the filtration case. Judge Buffington instructed the city government to bring in a complete estimate of the cost of building the proposed filtration plant before any action can be taken. The estimate of $2,719,000 sent to council on Monday night did not include the cost of covering the filter beds, which is necessarily a part of the plant.

When the city government sought to begin work on the filtration plant, it was taken into court by W. B. Rodgers and George W. Guthrie, who held that under the new charter an estimate of the total cost must be furnished councils before any work could be done on the contract. After a great deal of argument Judge Buffington decided that this was good law.

Controller Larkin was asked yesterday afternoon for his opinion as to whether the decision had been fully met. He said: "I do not think that the order of Judge Buffington has yet been complied with. The estimate that went to councils does not contain any provision for covers for the filter beds, which are known to be necessary. As they are not provided for there can be no estimate of total cost."

Director McCandless said yesterday that he thought he had complied with the order of the court. "The commission which presented the plans for the plant did not provide for covering the filter beds, because they are not necessary. For that reason I did nothing with it. The beds need not be covered. The filter plant at Lawrence, Mass., was in successful operation for 10 years without covers, and the weather in the winter there is much more rigorous than it is here.

"It has also been charged that we have made no provision in these plans for the South Side. This is not true. The South Side will be taken care of with filtered water whenever that side of the river is ready for it. We cannot give filtered water there until the contract with the Monongahela Water Company expires. Then we will give it to them."

Consumption

Nearly all early cases can be cured. Expert physicians tell us they rely largely on three things—fresh air, good food, and Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If the case is advanced, recovery is more uncertain. Follow your doctor's orders. That's best.

"I had a terrible cold on my lungs. I feared I might have consumption. Nothing seemed to give me relief until I used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It acted promptly and cured me completely."—Miss Emma Miller, Fort Snelling, Minn.

Woman Found Dead in a Field With Her Throat Cut; Postoffice Robbers Are Fired Upon by Ohio Citizens

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN FIELD

Her Throat Was Cut After a Carousal in a Dwelling at Hubbard, O.

HER HUSBAND UNDER ARREST

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 9. — Mrs. James McGinn, aged 21, of New Castle, Pa., was found dead with her throat cut from ear to ear in a pasture field at Hubbard this morning. She, with her husband, had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Martin Coyne, an uncle and aunt. A carousal occurred at the house and Mr. and Mrs. McGinn disappeared about midnight. McGinn was at the house this morning and the last seen of him was when he went out to get a bottle of whisky.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—James McGinn, wanted for the murder of his wife at Hubbard, O., was captured here this afternoon. He was standing near the postoffice, when Officer George Pastors approached and recognized him. McGinn made no resistance. His shirt and vest were splashed with blood and a blood-soaked handkerchief was found in his pocket.

McGinn and his wife lived here until a month ago in Cochran alley until he went to Hubbard, where he found work. Mrs. McGinn ruled the home and frequently left for days at a time, being away two months this summer at Niles and Cleveland. She was a striking brunette.

McGinn professed not to know the cause of his arrest when arraigned before Mayor Jackson and demanded to know why he was held. He failed to account satisfactorily for the bloody clothing and handkerchief. When informed that he was arrested for the murder of his wife he broke down and sobbed, professing to have known nothing of her murder. He was taken to Hubbard tonight.

SOLD THEIR INTEREST.

Minority Part of Oil Company Brought $100,000.

Spruce & Smith, who owned seven-sixteenths of the Cleveland and Parkersburg Oil Company, are said to have sold their interest to the other stockholders. The developments are in the Keener salt pool, on Wolf Pen run, Ritchie county, W. Va. The price is said to have been $100,000.

It was this company that discovered the pool in Wolf Pen Run more than two months ago when it drilled in a test well on the Thomas E. Dye farm that started at 200 barrels a day. Since then two more good producers have been completed on the farm and the production at the present time from the three wells is a little more than 300 barrels a day. The Thomas E. Dye is a large farm and the promising outlook for the undeveloped portion was the incentive, no doubt, for paying the price named for Spruce & Smith's interests.

In the west end of this development Smith, Wilson & Co.'s No. 2 in the Dora Arnett farm is still holding up at 400 barrels a day and a large amount of new work is starting in that locality.

An accident to the yacht's machinery, however, delayed him and he was unable to make connection with the train.

He was so exhausted that he coud not speak. He had taken no food since the commission of the crime Saturday morning. He is unquestionably insane and will not be taken to jail. He is over 80 years old.

ROBBERS LOOT POSTOFFICES

Two Ohio Towns Visited by Thieves Who Used Dynamite.

FIRED UPON BY CITIZENS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

AKRON, O., Sept. 9.—Two postoffices in this vicinity were robbed last night, one at Sharon Center, Medina county, and the other at Creston, Wayne county. The robbery at Creston was the most successful. The safe was blown open with dynamite and about $500 worth of stamps and $25 was secured. About midnight a young man who claimed to be waiting for a train met the night watchman and entertained him with funny stories while his confederates did their work in the postoffice.

Dr. D. P. Hollingsworth, who lives next door to the postoffice, heard the noise of the explosion and came to his front door. He was ordered back by one of the robbers on pain of being shot. He retreated but secured a shotgun and opened fire from an upper window. He bombarded the postoffice and riddled the building with shot, without, however, so far as known, injuring either of the robbers, who made their escape.

At Sharon Center the safe was also dynamited, and the store of John Hazen, in which the postoffice is located, was badly wrecked. Here $8 and $4 worth of stamps were secured.

Safe From Summer Complaints

All mammas, and papas too for that matter, dread the heat of summer with it's danger for the little folks, especially the babies. It is simply heart-breaking to read year after year about the great death rate among children caused by the summer's heat. Yet it is easy to protect the infants against all summer complaints, because we know that all these fearful perils have their beginning in stomach and bowel troubles, and we have a perfect family medicine that will keep the delicate machinery in a child's body clean, regular and in healthy working order in the hottest weather—CASCARETS Candy Cathartic. The plump, bouncing, crowing baby shown here is a CASCARET baby. He feels that way winter and summer. Nursing mammas take a CASCARET at bedtime, and it makes their mother's milk mildly purgative and keeps the baby just right. Older children like to take the fragrant, sweet little candy tablet, and are safe from colic, gripes, diarrhoea, summer rash, prickly heat and all the mean troubles that summer brings with it.

MILLERS RUN CHURCH WILL STAY AS IT IS

Pittsburgh Presbytery Would Not Favor Dissolution.

BUSINESS CAUSED STRIFE IN CHURCH

The Fall Meeting of Presbytery Was a Busy One—Commissioners to Synod Were Chosen. Allegheny Presbytery Meets.

The fall meeting of the Pittsburgh presbytery of the Presbyterian church, convened yesterday in the First church, Wood street, was by all odds the busiest and most enthusiastic of the year. The Rev. Jesse L. Cotton was elected moderator and the Rev. John M. Gaston clerk. The retiring moderator, the Rev. Dr. J. P. Calhoun, delivered a stirring speech against the "tired minister," the "callous individual who forgets the object of his calling."

A subborn fight was brought about in the morning session when W. C. Lilley, of the presbyterial missions committee, reported that the committee advised the dissolution of the Millers Run church. Mr. Lilley had scarcely finished when the Rev. Dr. E. R. Donehoo arose and condemned the recommendation. Others followed in the same strain. It was held that the Millers Run church, being the oldest in the presbytery, should never be abandoned. One minister characterized such a step as "retreating from the bulwarks in face of a strong fire."

Strife in the Church.

The committee made its recommendation because of strife in that church. The members are mostly farmers near Canonsburg. A little over a year ago half of the members left the church because of a business transaction in which members of the session were said to be involved. Many of the members who owned coal land agreed to lease the coal rights at a common rate. Some of them broke the rate, with the result that others received less for their claims. This created enmity in the church, and some of its best supporters withdrew. There are now scarcely 40 people attached to it. Under these conditions it was thought best to dissolve its relations with the presbytery. The opposition became so strong, however, that the committee withdrew its recommendation. The Rev. H. H. Ryland has been named to supply this church for a few weeks and make an effort to heal the sore.

A call from the Valley church was extended to the Rev. George P. Atwell, of the Riverdale church, at $1,000 a year and a parsonage. Mr. Atwell will not accept until he consults with his present congregation.

West End Case Settled.

The famous case of the West End church against the Ingram church was settled by the judicial commission appointed to investigate. The commission severely censured the Ingram session for receiving W. P. McCormick and his wife, knowing that Mr. McCormick had not complied with church discipline before leaving the West End church. The commission's judgment was that the McCormicks' names be stricken from the roll of the West End church on condition that $16 owned to the church be paid.

The afternoon session opened with the balloting for commissioners to the state synod, which convenes in the Second church, Allegheny, next month. The following were elected:

Ministers—The Revs. J. L. Cotton, J. F. Hill, W. L. McEwan, J. M. McJunkin, C. S. Beatty, Vaclav Losa, C. M. Moore. Alternates—The Revs. J. F. Munford, J. M. Work, U. S. Greeves, T. O. Rosborough, G. E. Schlbrede, A. P. Carlile, T. W. Hine.

Standing Committees.

The presbytery unanimously decided to work for a revival in the Wednesday night prayer meetings. Of late the interest has been waning and the attendance anything but encouraging. The following standing committees were appointed:

Presbyterial missions—The Revs. H. T. McClelland, J. J. Beacom, W. L. McEwan, and Elders J. W. Guy, S. E. Gill and John Burford.

Foreign missions—J. C. Stevenson to fill the place of M. W. Robinson, deceased.

Synodical missions—R. H. Taylor to replace H. G. Kerr.

Narrative—T. W. Hine to replace C. E. Edwards.

Sunday observance—J. R. Jones to replace A. W. Verner.

American Bible society—P. S. Jennings to replace E. H. Prugh.

Allegheny Presbytery.

The Allegheny presbytery met in the First church, Allegheny, with the Rev. J. A. Stevenson as moderator. The overture of the general assembly touching the revision promised to bring about a lively debate, but on motion it was referred to the special committee, which will report at the next meeting. The famous "kissing case" from Springdale reached the presbytery in a report, and it was learned that W. W. Walnwright was suspended from the church until such time as he made confession of sin to the session.

The Rev. H. S. Shaw was received from the presbytery of Shenango, and the Rev. Frank Walker was dismissed to the presbytery of Huntingdon. The Hoboken congregation called the Rev. S. C. Orr at an annual salary of $1,000.

The following principals and alternates were elected for the synod: The Rev. John Lannits, the Rev. Dr. H. D. Lladsay, the Rev. J. L. Reed, the Rev. J. S. Ramsey; alternates, the Rev. C. E. Hills, the Rev. T. M. Thompson, the Rev. C. A. McCrea and the Rev. C. Dalzell; elders, Hamilton Stewart, T. C. White, B. F. Sprankle and John Cowan; alternates, Robert Guyton, John E. Wightman, E. E. Wright and D. C. Christy.

Because it is a sure worm destroyer, it is none the less a strength-giver—Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge.

THE REV. J. M. GASTON,
Elected Clerk of the Pittsburgh Presbytery.

LOCAL PASTOR TO LEAVE.

The Rev. J. R. Henry Asks Presbytery to Dissolve Relations With First Cumberland Presbyterian.

The Pittsburgh presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian church convened last night in the Second church, Patterson's hall, East End. The Rev. C. M. Moore of Coal Center was elected moderator. Retiring moderator, the Rev. P. R. Danley, preached an eloquent sermon, after which the presbytery adjourned until this morning.

The Rev. J. R. Henry, who has been pastor of the First church, this city, for eight years, will ask the presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relations. Mr. Henry has been elected dean of the Cumberland university at Lebanon, Tenn.

The presbytery will discuss today the matter of affiliating with the new church union movement. It is thought that union will meet with little favor.

Gets Judgment for $4,084,000.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—A judgment for $4,084,000 in favor of Charles F. Brown was entered today in an action brought by him in the supreme court against the Memphis, El Paso & Pacific Railroad Company. Brown claimed to be the owner of 1,967 bonds of the defendant company, valued at $1,000 each. The bonds when they reached maturity were not paid, and Brown sued to recover their value and the interest.

The Wonderful Fruits and Overwhelming Success of the First Great Sale Will Urge Investors to Get Their Tickets Now for the

FREE EXCURSION

TO THE OPENING SALE OF LOTS IN FIRST ADDITION TO

TRAFFORD CITY!

SATURDAY, SEPT. 13TH.

This second plan presents just as great an opportunity for investors as the property that was put on the market in the first memorable sale. It is an extension of the first plan into just as finely situated land, made valuable by the unprecedented march of improvement that has taken place on the lots sold at the opening event, when, in less than three-fourths of a day, $535,000 worth of property was bought up by the first investors, and $70,000 worth resold one to three hours later at large advances.

It is the second time in the history of town-building that people will have a chance to press in and get prices that are really beneath present market value.

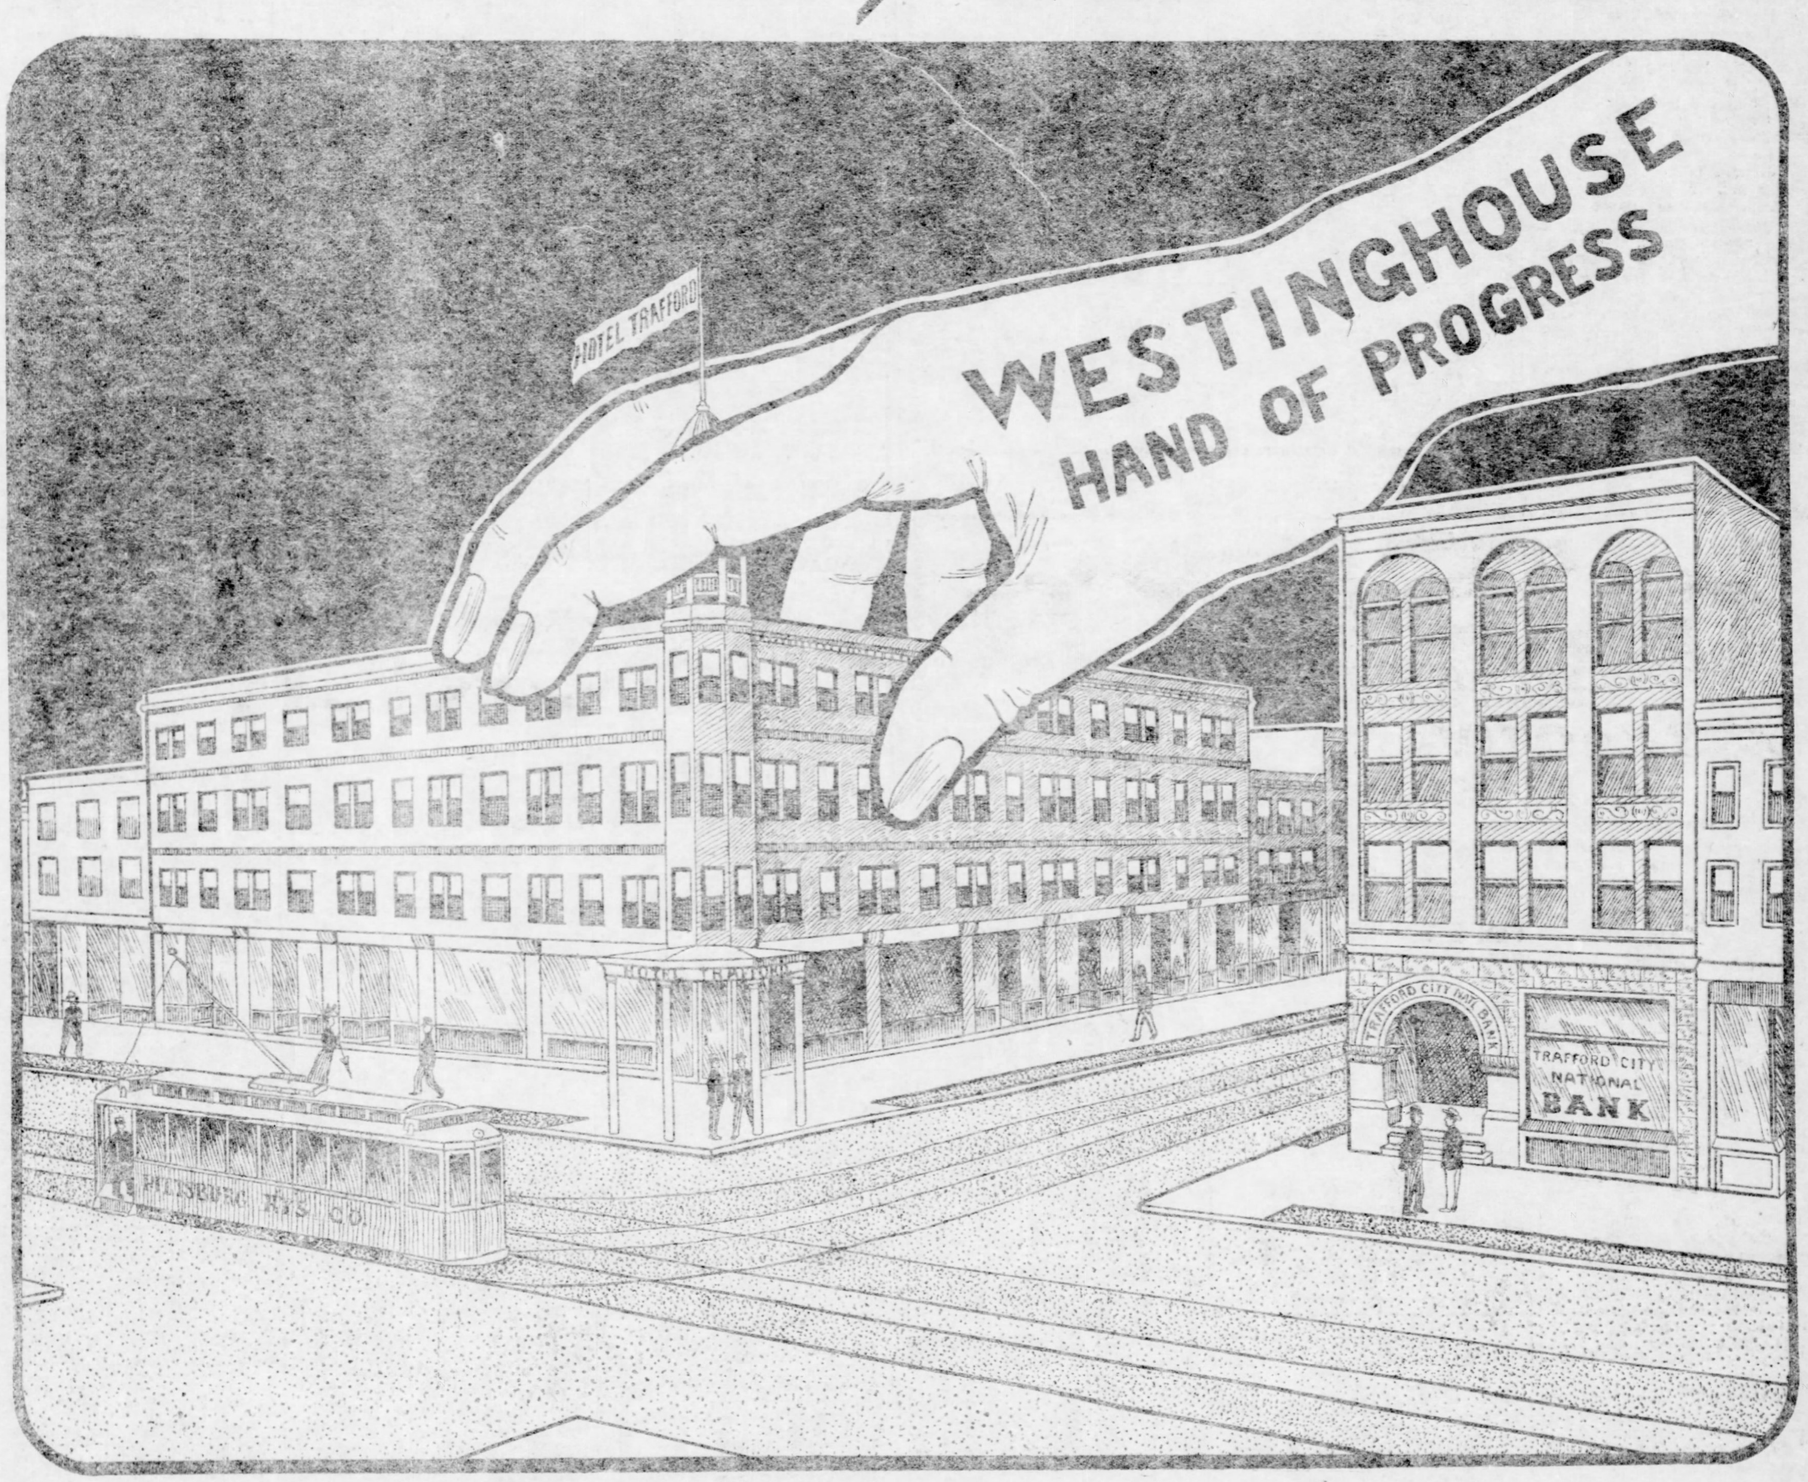
Since that famous opening day, all the streets of Trafford City have been paved, sidewalks have been put down, city water has been turned on, electric lights are being placed, and the Pittsburgh Railways Co.'s traction line, connecting Pittsburgh and intermediate points with Trafford City, has been completed.

Another big trolley line will be built from Trafford City to Greensburg, Blairsville and Apollo. Saltsburg, Indiana county, is to be the center of this extensive system.

Yet of all these improvements there is nothing as great as the fundamental cause of them—the great new Westinghouse Foundries. The foundation and structural iron work on the pattern shop of this immense plant are up, and the brick work is now being laid.

The foundations for the first foundry building are finished, and excavations are being made for the foundations of the second foundry building.

WHEN THE ENTIRE GREAT WESTINGHOUSE PLANT IS COMPLETED, IN LESS THAN A YEAR, 10,000 MEN WILL BE EMPLOYED.



Chartered Free Excursion Trains will leave Johnstown, Derry, Latrobe, Greensburg, Uniontown, Connellsville, Scottdale, Irwin, Jeannette, Pittsburgh and all intermediate Points.

Secure train schedules and your free excursion tickets at once! Don't wait until the limit has been reached in the number of tickets we are permitted to give out! POSITIVELY NO LOTS WILL BE SOLD AT THIS NEXT GREAT SALE UNTIL EXCURSION TRAINS FROM THE EAST HAVE ARRIVED

The first foundry will be in operation early next spring, with 3,500 employed. When the entire plant is completed there will be employment for 10,000 men. This will occur in less than a year, and from such a tremendous impetus will spring a city of at least 50,000 people.

In fact, all previous Westinghouse town-building records have been distanced! This means a great deal, since former Westinghouse achievements were never paralleled.

To give you some idea of the progress that has been made in a few short weeks we will state that the Westinghouse Machine Co. has let contracts for the building of twenty-five modern brick residences; also for a $50,000 three-story brick hotel, which will contain a magnificent cafe and cosy reading rooms on the first floor.

There will also be a fine banking institution, to be known as the Trafford City National Bank. It will erect, at a cost of $25,000, a handsome three-story brick structure on the corner of Brinton Avenue and Fifth Street. Lots in this neighborhood which sold at the opening sale on June 7th at $850 are reselling today at $1,500. The southwest corner of Cavitt Avenue and Fifth Street, that was sold originally at $2,250, has been resold at $4,100. Advances like this are numerous. They are not the exception.

TO MAKE A FAST SALE OF THE LOTS IN ADDITION TO TRAFFORD CITY

and get building operations in motion all over the great new Westinghouse town, we have set a popular price on every site that will be offered. Choice lots will be sold at $150, $200, $250, $300, $350 and $400.

Some extra choice sites have been priced a little higher. Yet in every instance the price is at least 25 per cent less than the lots can be sold for the day following the sale. You can measure this statement by incidents that happened on June 7 and learn that it is surely a conservative one—that the opportunity to make big money has been trebled owing to the building operations, completion of street improvements, and the extensive but partial construction of the immense works.

The terms on which lots will be sold are:

10 PER CENT DOWN.
BALANCE 3 PER CENT MONTHLY.
NO TAXES OR INTEREST UNTIL DELIVERY OF DEED.
15 PER CENT DISCOUNT FOR CASH.

This discount is allowed when purchaser pays all cash within thirty days or pays one-third cash within thirty days and gives bond and purchase money mortgage for the balance, payable in two equal annual installments with interest.

All lots on residence streets will be sold with restrictions requiring that houses be built back 20 feet from the sidewalk.

The title of the property will be guaranteed to each purchaser by a free policy issued by the Real Estate Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Capital and Surplus $3,500,000.

No doubt the marvelous expansion of all the Westinghouse industries, brought about by the finding of many new markets in various parts of the world, has stimulated the money-making proclivities of investors to an extent that has certainly astonished the real estate men of the entire country. Yet the demand for Westinghouse property has not opened their eyes any more than has the success of the Westinghouse industries, for the reason that the Westinghouse industrial expansion has built up, on actual figures, 23 per cent more real estate wealth to the money invested than has Pullman or any of the famous commune-establishing industries of Germany or Europe.

You can see from this that investors had substantial reasons for wedging in ahead of the excursion trains at the last great sale. What if men and women did camp out all night, resting under no other counterpane than the blue sky, when at daybreak it was possible to pocket from $500 to $5,000 of clear money? The Pittsburgh "Times," in its great "scare-head" article the next morning, in the first columns on its first page, did not overstep the bounds of veracity one word when it stated that Oklahoma had been out-Oklahomaed.

It is said that one man made $11,000 the next day reselling lots that he and his friends had purchased. A woman cleared $3,900 before she left the porch in front of the pay window.

Unhappy Cuba.

The appearance of banditti in many parts of Cuba is just what is to have been expected, as it is the natural result of our policy towards that unfortunate island. We had no right to oust Spanish jurisdiction unless we were willing to accept the responsibility of maintaining orderly government there. By conferring upon Cuba an independence she is not fitted to sustain, we betrayed our trust towards her people, and that initial wrong has been greatly intensified by our conduct since. We have lost the Spanish market to Cuba and we have shut her out of the American market. Enterprise of every kind is stagnant, industry is prostrated and the people trained to habits of rapine by years of guerrilla warfare are taking to the woods and living by plunder. The island is sinking into anarchy and the situation promises to be worse than it was under Spanish rule. The part of the United States in this wretched business is a shameful story of national weakness and dishonor.

An instance of a parallel case in which a different policy was pursued with vastly different results is presented by Herzegovina. When it was a province of Turkey it was subject to abuse and misrule and was in a chronic state of insurrection. Just as in the case of Cuba the guerrilla bands could not win decisive victories or establish a regular government, but they could be suppressed. Finally with the consent of the European powers Austria undertook the task of restoring order. The Turks yielded as Spain did in the case of Cuba, and Austria took jurisdiction with no pledges save that industry should be protected and order maintained. The sensible precaution was taken of occupying the country with such a military force that resistance was out of the question. The revolutionists saw at once that there would be no opening for their trade, and the class of thrifty patriots who cry out for liberty and independence with a view to favoring their designs upon the public treasury, never got a chance to organize. Austria went steadily ahead attending to her duties and establishing good government. At present the province is quiet and orderly, and the people are busy with industry instead of with politics. Institutions of local self-government have been introduced, adapted to the needs and understandings of the people, and the province is enjoying a prosperity unknown before in its history. If the Cuban policy of the United States had been applied to Herzegovina it would have become a political derelict, abandoned to chronic revolution.

The spirit which so far has animated the policy of the United States in liberating oppressed peoples has been one of irresponsible sentimentality, like that of the French Jacobins, and as mischievous. More sane and more conscientious conceptions of national duty must be established before the might of American power will become serviceable to the advance of civilization.

Thugs at Work.

The assault upon Robert Repp, at the East Liberty railway station early yesterday morning, was a particularly daring piece of work on the part of the thugs who committed the crime. It is true the hour was very early, and darkness prevailed, but the spot is a busy one. It is near the signal tower, where a man was on duty, and is not far from a police station. The highwaymen attacked their victim as he was about to enter the railway station to begin his duties, and it happened to be the time when the policeman on that beat was farthest away from the station. Their object seems to have been to rob the ticket office, and they cared not whether they added murder to robbery, for they sandbagged their victim into unconsciousness. It is said Repp had been followed on other mornings, and this led to the detail of several policemen to watch, but the robbers were cautious enough to wait until this extra vigilance had ceased. With the railroad detective service to aid the police, it is hoped that these bold criminals will be caught and punished, as, if they are not, it will add a blot to a police page already smeared.

Significance of the Movement.

Attendance and enthusiasm at the meeting of the Ohio River Improvement Association is all that could be desired. There is nothing startlingly new in the proceedings, for the subject is an old and important one. The feature of the meeting is the exhibition of a more determined spirit in pursuit of the desired object.

The Ohio river has been for more than a century one of the great highways of commerce. It has exerted untold influence upon the settlement and development of the territory known as the middle west. As a natural highway it has had its uses, but conditions have grown beyond its natural accommodations. There is urgent need for improvement in the form of creating a semi-artificial waterway. To accomplish that is the aim of the improvement association, and it bids fair to reach that end.

During the past few years the association has urged the subject upon the attention of congress in a most practical manner. Once it has had a delegation of influential members of congress over the territory most affected, with the result of enlisting them in the cause. To the arguments already advanced will be added the data and statistics presented before the Parkersburg convention. The case is overwhelmingly convincing and soon there will be responsive action.

As a matter of fact, the Ohio river traffic is the greatest that passes over any American river. Without it that of the Mississippi would be small. That of the Missouri and upper Mississippi combined is small by comparison, though more encouraged by government aid. But this traffic, large as it is, will be greatly increased when the river is made permanently navigable for ordinary river craft. Moreover, there is a new interest in it. The welcome decision to have an American canal across the isthmus has a decided bearing upon the utilization of the river system which leads directly toward the new enterprise. Undoubtedly Ohio valley products are destined to enter largely into the trans-isthmian commerce, and it will be an inestimable advantage to American trade if these find an all-water route from Pittsburgh and other points in the valley to final destination.

Such is the significance of the present meeting at which all of the people of the Ohio valley are present in spirit, if not in person. The movement has attained national scope and will not be denied the fruition of its purpose.

Good Example Set.

Republicans of the Twenty-seventh congressional district have set a good example to their neighbors in Western Pennsylvania by meeting in friendly spirit and promptly making a nomination. The result will be a united party in the district and a full vote for all Republican candidates from top to bottom of the ticket. Congressman Jack surrendered gracefully after serving acceptably for two terms and the nomination went to Jefferson county, which was really entitled to it under the custom of the district.

William O. Smith, the nominee, is widely known as a capable legislator and man of affairs. He was elected for four successive terms in the house at Harrisburg, an honor never before conferred on any one by Jefferson county. One term had previously been the rule. That fact is an indication of his popularity in his home county and of his ability. No doubt he will develop equal strength in other counties of the district and thereby assist in rolling up an old-time majority for the state candidates.

Sterrett Asks Admission.

Sterrett township wishes to become a portion of the Greater Pittsburgh, and no obstacle should be thrown in its way. A committee of the township's officials has talked the matter over with Recorder Brown and several other officials of Pittsburgh, who pointed out the course to be pursued. Three-fifths of the resident taxables of the township must sign the petition for annexation, which will go to the Pittsburgh councils for action. The ordinance of admission will also require the approval of the recorder.

The annexation of Sterrett township would not add a large area nor a great many citizens to Pittsburgh, but the spirit is commendable and ought to be encouraged. The population of the township as ascertained by the census of 1900, was 555, but it has increased considerably in the two years that have elapsed since the enumeration. In 1890 Sterrett township had 1,182 inhabitants, but in the decade that followed parts of the township were annexed to Wilkinsburg and to Pittsburgh. The remainder cannot do better than become a part of this city, and the glad hand should be held out in greeting.

Dodging Real Issues.

In reference to an article in The Gazette the other day the Post inquires what the election of a governor of Pennsylvania has to do with the national finances. Nothing directly. Indirectly it may have great influence. In the article to which the Post refers it was pointed out that the two occasions of Democratic national success, since the civil war, followed hard upon the two elections of Pattison as governor of Pennsylvania. The election of Cleveland and a Democratic congress had everything to with the deplorable state of the national finances, resulting in a large increase of the nation's bonded debt in a time of profound peace.

Pennsylvania is a Republican state. The election of a Democratic governor in it is in the nature of giving encouragement to the enemy. It is quite as pertinent as the question propounded by the Post to inquire why the Pennsylvania Democrats, including the Post, become excited whenever the record of their party is mentioned in connection with the state canvass. Are they conducting a campaign under false pretenses?

Judge Pennypacker no more represents the evils of Gov. Stone's administration than does ex-Gov. Pattison. His nomination was a protest against the Stone regime. He represents the clean sentiment of the Republican party and the people of the state, and at the same time stands for Republicanism in the conduct of national affairs—sound money, protection and prosperity. Pattison just as certainly stands for free silver, free trade and the public evils in their train. Pattison is ambitious to be president, and his false pretense campaign on "exclusively state issues" is being conducted in the hope that a third election as governor in this Republican state will win for him the Democratic nomination for president in 1904.

To most people these facts will indicate a sufficiently intimate relation between the election of a governor of the state and the evils that follow Democratic administration of the affairs of the nation to cause them to consider well before voting the Democratic ticket. And that is exactly what irritates the Post. It hopes to raise dust enough to blind voters to the real significance of the campaign. It is to be congratulated upon its keen perception of the weakness of the record of its party, but for that reason its efforts to cloud the issues are the more reprehensible.

Contrary Opinions.

There will be no temporary borrowing to meet the deficiencies in estimated revenues or extravagances in departments until the courts have passed upon the legality of the procedure. Controller Larkin has an opinion from George W. Guthrie, acting in the capacity of private counsel, which construes the charter act very differently from the opinion of City Attorney Carnahan. Mr. Guthrie holds that the charter provisions cited mean that no warrants may be issued unless the cash is actually in the treasury.

Mr. Guthrie's opinion conforms to the general intent of the charter act, while that of Mr. Carnahan did not. Moreover, this latest opinion gives meaning to the words of the charter, while that of the city solicitor held them to be meaningless and unnecessary. It is a fair presumption that if the framers of the charter act had not intended to prevent the annual deficits—much complained about when the law was written—they would not have given so much attention to the subject. But in any event there is a conflict of opinion and authority that can only be decided by the courts. In the meantime the controller, as fiscal agent of the city, holds the whip hand. He cannot be forced to countersign warrants until a judicial opinion is rendered, and if borrowing is done before such decision is obtained it will be at borrower's risk.

A Humane President.

The humanitarianism of President Roosevelt has been brought into prominence by a proposed cowboy race from Deadwood to Omaha. Although an admirer and ardent supporter of athletic sports and reasonable contests in speed, the president immediately realized, upon learning of the proposed race, that it would entail much suffering upon the horse, and he at once requested that the contest be abandoned, which has been done.

Humanitarians everywhere will be pleased by this action of President Roosevelt, for in discountenancing the proposed race he at the same time put himself on record as opposed to all sports which occasion unnecessary suffering for dumb animals. It was a timely reminder of the duty that man owes to the lower orders of creation, especially the horse, and is bound to have a good effect.

The astrologists of India have had more success than the prophet who foretold the destruction of Atlantic City. They predict a terrible convulsion shortly, and already some sample earthquakes have occurred.

It won't be necessary for the Maine legislature to choose a governor. The Pine Tree voters did their work more effectively than the Green Mountain electors.

The Tom Johnson political circus in Ohio would not be so attractive if Mr. Johnson were to spell out his front name.

The Connecticut sheriff who stretched a cable to capture a racing automobile succeeded in roping in his prisoner.

By this time Mr. Carmack should be regretting those predictions about Democratic gains in New England.

Kaiser Wilhelm failed to notice the accident to the Brooklyn by singing "Hoch der Coghlan."

At all events, the end of the anthracite strike is nearer than it has ever been before.

If Admiral Killick is really a pirate, he may be signed for Pittsburgh's next team.

Gov. Stone did not settle the anthracite strike while in New York yesterday.

It appears that the Cuban banditti act just like East End highwaymen.

The anthracite strike persistently refuses to be debated to death.

Jupiter Pluvius had another consignment of goods to deliver.

New England's crop of Democratic votes is very small.

Open the door for Sterrett township!

HIS MOTIVE.

I saw him take the paper, and
Turn to the Household Page,
Then scan the columns up and down,
As one who all would gauge.

"Aha" he muttered to himself,
"Here's 'How to Make Rice Fritters,'
And 'How to Utilize Cold Beef,'
And 'Home-made Stomach Bitters.'"

Then from his pocket forth he took
A pair of scissors, small,
And severed from the printed page
The helpful hints and all.

He clipped "The Way to Scramble Eggs,"
And "How to Make Peach Butter,"
As well as half a dozen more.
"That's all"—again his mutter.

"A thoughtful man," at once I mused,
"A man who cares for things;
Who loves the calm, contented song
The home teakettle sings."

"Do you," I asked, "Preserve those notes
So that your wife may see them?"
"Not much," he growled, "I cut them out
So she won't get to try them."

GOVERNOR STONE'S SHOPPING JOURNEY

The Executive Is Too Marked a Man Physically to Remain Incognito.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.

Pittsburghers are many in the leading thoroughfares of New York. That is a fact recognized by everyone whose business takes him along Broadway, Fifth avenue or the downtown business streets. Steel and iron are in the air, as well as in the skyscrapers, and it is Pittsburgh iron and steel. The men that deal in the staple products of Pittsburgh follow the iron and steel and have made New York more familiar with ingots, blooms, billets and pig iron than it ever expected to be a few years ago. We are so used to Pittsburghers here that little comment is made when even a dozen of them gather in the lobby of a hotel or walk briskly through the business district. There was a Pittsburgher here today, however, whose gigantic stature and broad proportions would have caused him to be remarked anywhere. Men turned around to look after him and ask each other: "Who is that big fellow?" They saw that he was apparently as good-natured as he was big, and that he exchanged pleasant greetings now and then with passers-by. Who was he? Only a few persons asked this question after obtaining a good look at his face. William A. Stone, governor of Pennsylvania, is pretty well known in New York, either from being seen in the flesh at Harrisburg and Philadelphia, or from the many portraits of him published in the papers of the country. The great frame, slightly stooped, which used to be so familiar in the streets of Pittsburgh when its owner was a hard-working lawyer in private practice, or district attorney for Allegheny county, moved through Wall street and lower Broadway today, and all kinds of rumors were abroad. Later he was seen in Twenty-third street, and then there were more surmises. Gov. Stone said he was in New York only on a shopping expedition with Mrs. Stone. Whatever his object, certainly he let the town know he was here, merely by walking about, and even when he sat democratically in an "L" train, he was the most striking human figure in the car. It is convenient to be tall and stout, no doubt, but large physical proportions make it difficult to preserve an incognito, as Gov. Stone knows, to his frequent embarrassment.

Pittsburghers in a Rough Voyage.

Frank Tooker, the well-known Pittsburgh hotel proprietor, was here today, having come to New York to meet Mrs. Tooker and their son, who returned from Europe yesterday. There was a rather severe gale on the homeward voyage and the vessel was tossed about with more rudeness than summer trippers across the Atlantic know anything about. Mrs. Tooker admitted that she was glad to be safely home. The rough weather does not dismay a party of Pittsburghers who will sail from this port tomorrow. They include E. J. Osterling, the architect, and several other gentlemen, who are going over for a short visit of the principal continental cities, with London thrown in. They expect to be back before the holidays.

Demand For Stock Exchange Seats.

Wall street is looking for the highest known price to be paid for a stock exchange seat in the near future. There was one sold on Saturday for $79,000, which was within $1,000 of the record price, $80,000, paid last winter. It was said today that four more seats at the Saturday figure are desired, and that men living out of town would like to obtain seats at $79,000 or even $80,000. All indications are that the fall and winter business in Wall street will be simply enormous.

The Fruit Season.

New York is a great fruit-eating city. Proof of this is afforded in the number of push-cart fruit peddlers that ply their trade in all parts of the city, and in the many varieties of uncommon fruit that are on sale. For instance, one can buy mangoes, pomegranates, alligator pears and hothouse grapes almost anywhere in the city, and at reasonable prices, too. Fruit is exceedingly plentiful in New York now. Pineapples can be bought at 15 cents apiece, Malaga grapes, 25 cents a pound, and cherries at very little advance over summer prices. Apples are coming in, too, so that, altogether, the fruit-lover can have a pleasant time at very slight expenditure, with the prospects that his favorite apples, pears and pineapples will be on the market all winter.

Music With Meals.

Most of the restaurants in New York that have pretensions to style furnish music with their meals. Some of the places where one may buy a dinner for a quarter have an orchestra of three or four pieces, while at such places as the Waldorf-Astoria, one sits in the palm room of other dining rooms with an orchestra of perhaps a dozen men. The beef-and-and "draw-one" restaurants feel that they must have music, too, and they have hit on a method of providing it at the smallest possible cost. They allow a hand organ to be played at the edge of the sidewalk at intervals, sometimes for an hour or two at a time. The proprietor of the place gives the Italian gentleman at the crank a dime now and then, and the arrangement is entirely satisfactory on both sides. The organ is usually a large affair, mounted on a handcart, and the music it discourses is of a catchy and melodious quality. It is better than some pretentious orchestra, for that matter. In one of these restaurants this evening a man who had just finished his meal while the organ was playing lustily in the street, asked the proprietor why he did not get a regular orchestra. "What do you expect with a cup of coffee and shikers?" was the gruff retort. And as the customer walked slowly away he muttered: "I never thought of that. I wonder why they don't do this kind of thing in Pittsburgh."

A Lesson on Corsets.

An interesting session of the annual convention of the Dressmakers' association was held in this city today. Miss White, president of the association, delivered a lecture, illustrated by living models, on "the hygienic way of putting on a corset." Those who were in attendance say it was most instructive, and that some sharp surprises were afforded for women who found that they had been dressing themselves in the wrong way all their lives. The fundamental principles of fastening a straight front corset properly, seem to be to fasten it first at the bottom, just to get it together, and then at the top. The next proceeding is to loosen it at the bottom and button it from the top down. The combined result is grace, comfort and a calm belief in the correctness of everything that is. The corset is a powerful agent for good or ill in the feminine make-up, says Miss White.

Union of Church and Stage.

The Actors' Church alliance, an organization whose name suggests its purpose, does not flourish as well in the metropolis as might be desired. This is on the authority of the Rev. Walter E. Bentley, once well known to Pittsburgh and other cities as a responsible sort of actor, but who has been in the ministry for the last eight or 10 years. Mr. Bentley presided at last night's meeting of the New York chapter of the alliance, and declared that if it is to be kept alive it must have money, to raise which he suggested the giving of a monster benefit theatrical performance. Thus are church and stage affiliated, in a way that our strait-laced forebears of 50 years ago would have considered simply impossible.

Money in Handwriting Acumen.

Handwriting experts employed in trials in New York get $50 a day if they come from somewhere outside the limits of Greater New York, and $25 a day if they live in the city. When the services of these men are used for weeks at a stretch, as was the case in the last Molineux trial, the money they receive amounts to a tidy sum. On this account the city controller has held up the bills incurred in the last Molineux trial to the present time. Assistant District Attorney Osborne needs them in the new Molineux trial, and he indorsed their bills in a hurry today. They will get their back pay and be ready to testify with their accustomed tediousness whenever they are called to the stand. All indications are that the new trial will be a battle royal for the life or death of the young clubman.

Cruise of a Disorderly Craft.

Mack McCarthy, an able seaman of the United States battleship Kearsarge, which has returned from the war game, got shore leave and shortly after dark tonight started on a cruise up the Bowery. He put in at every port he sighted until he had a list to starboard that betokened a shift in ballast. McCarthy still insisted on putting into more ports, however, with the result that he was thrown out of half a dozen harbors in rapid succession. That made McCarthy mad, and he ran up his colors to the masthead and decided that it was time to clear for action. Being hard pressed by hostile craft, he sought refuge and sailed into a bake shop near Broome street. Here he pelted the cashier with his own buns and hurled a few more at a passing trolley car. Then he attacked a hot corn peddler and threw ears of corn at the car and everything else in the neighborhood. He scalded himself and the peddler and raised a lovely ruction generally. The tar is in jail now and the peddler is resting easy in a hospital.

Murderer Writing Autobiography.

In the shadow of the gallows George W. Taylor, a colored murderer, sentenced to be hanged July 12 last, but who secured an appeal that stayed his execution, is busy in his cell in the county jail at Jersey City writing a history of his life with a view to providing funds to support his wife in case the sentence of death is upheld by the upper courts. Taylor killed his aunt last winter.

Jones' Bundle of Rainbows.

Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic national committee, sits in the lobby of the Fifth Avenue hotel these days keeping a baleful eye upon the "amen corner." He made the prediction this evening that the Republican state ticket in a number of states would be ingloriously defeated, though he declined, except in one instance, to enumerate the doubtful states. From reports he has received in this state Senator Jones gave it as his opinion that the Democratic state ticket would be victorious, no matter who is to be the gubernatorial candidate, but declared that if Bird S. Coler be selected to head the state ticket his plurality would be larger than that of any candidate in many years.

Remedy For Miscarriages of Justice.

Referring to the frequent miscarriages of justice in consequence of judicial errors in the first trial of indicted persons, the Evening Telegram today editorially offers a suggestion by which they might be prevented. It says that in each one of the big criminal trials of the last few years, in which there has been a new trial ordered by the court of appeals, the root of the evil was the same—erroneous rulings by the trial judge. The remedy suggested is that adopted by Massachusetts, in having two judges sitting in important criminal trials. This materially reduces the liability of judicial error and the consequent chances of setting aside the verdict. Better still, it is thought, would be three judges, who would render reversal wholly improbable, if not impossible, in nine cases out of ten.

Dynamite Found on a Pier.

Four sticks of dynamite were found in a package wrapped in a Slavonic newspaper on the North German Lloyd pier in Hoboken last night. The dynamite weighed more than four pounds, and if exploded would have destroyed the pier as effectually as was the one by fire two years ago. The stuff was dumped into the Hudson river today, where it will be harmless. The supposition is that the dynamite was the property of some miner who had brought it from the scene of the strike in Pennsylvania.

New American Steamship Line.

A new line of steamships, to ply between New York and all the principal ports of the orient, is soon to be in operation. The vessels will sail under the American flag. Men of financial prominence whose names never before have been identified with maritime interests have lent their aid to the new project.

Rain Saves One of the Teams.

Heavy rain today prevented the Pittsburghers playing the Giants the last game of the season at the Polo grounds. Manager McGraw says the New Yorks would have won if they had played. An easy boast, since there was no test.

ITALIAN KING'S GOOD PRECEDENT

Has Announced Intention to Pay for Tours from Private Purse.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

King Victor Emmanuel has set an example to his brother monarchs which they are likely to regard with marked disapproval. Finding there was a disposition on the part of the Italian press and certain politicians to question whether the expense of his visits to St. Petersburg and Berlin was commensurate with the advantages to the government and the nation, he has announced that he proposed to pay the entire cost of both trips out of his own private purse, and to "make a present to the nation of any advantages accruing to the latter" from the visits in question.

This is no small matter. The expenses of such a visit do not consist merely of the running of special trains across Europe, but the enormous quantity of presents of money and jewelry which have to be given all the foreign dignitaries and officials, and who look upon these gifts in the light of perquisites. Thus it is probable the two visits of the king to St. Petersburg and Berlin will cost him in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars.

State visits of this kind are, as a rule, paid by the national treasury, since they are paid by the ruler as the head of the state. There will be a disposition from henceforth on the part of European parliaments when called upon to pay for such trips to recommend their respective sovereigns to follow the example of King Victor Emmanuel.

Bernhardt Desires Conquest.

Sarah Bernhardt is determined to make the conquest of the kaiser. When formerly invited to act at Berlin she declined unless Alsace and Lorraine were given back to France. She now considers she made a mistake, and that she would have had more prospect of accomplishing her aim by going to Berlin and bringing the kaiser within the range of her genius and fascination, than by holding up to him the privilege of seeing her on the stage as only to be won by his surrender to France of the conquered provinces.

In connection with this I may recall the fact that Sarah Bernhardt, at a supper given after the close of a performance at Copenhagen, invited in a loud tone of voice the Prussian envoy to the court of Denmark to drink to the health of France, and the latter's recovery of the provinces in question. The baron, for one reason or another, apparently did not understand the purport of her toast. To the amazement of everyone present he clinked glasses with her, smiling in the most amiable fashion. The affair created a considerable sensation and resulted in the recall of Baron Magnus and his being placed on the retired list on the ground of the alleged failure of his mental faculties, and for a time at any rate—it was during the regime of Bismarck—the unfortunate baron, whose only weakness of intellect was a devotion to the fair sex carried to absurd lengths, was kept under restraint in a lunatic asylum.

Actors With Political Missions.

Sarah Bernhardt is by no means the only member of the dramatic profession or footlight favorite to look upon herself as a personage of political importance. Thus Vestris, the famous dancer of the eighteenth century, used to speak of himself as being on "good or bad terms with the house of Bourbon," and he once remarked there were "only three great men in Europe," namely, Voltaire, Frederick the Great and himself, but that he, unlike the other two, was "careful about interfering in international politics." Madame Ristori is known to have been often entrusted with political messages by Count Cavour, the Italian premier, notably on one occasion with a message to Prince Gortchakoff in the days immediately preceding Italian unity, and Vivier, one of the best horn players and most original professional humorist of his day, who described Napoleon III. as "the most gentlemanly emperor" he had ever known, was often entrusted with confidential dispatches by that well-bred monarch. It is to be hoped this will not lead the American theater-going public to look upon every English actor or vaudeville performer who crosses the Atlantic as a political emissary of John Bull.

Connemara Peerage Extinct.

Lord Connemara, whose death has just taken place, leaves no legitimate children, and his peerage therefore becomes extinct. He will be best remembered as the high official, who while occupying the post of Governor of Madras—that is to say of an Indian dependency of some 30,000,000 people, if not more—conducted himself in such a scandalous manner that his wife was forced to quit the executive palace on the very eve of a great state entertainment, and take up her residence at a hotel until the departure of the mail steamer for England. On reaching home Lady Connemara, who was a daughter and part heiress of the great Marquis of Dalhousie, whose name remains to this day a household word in India, over which he ruled for many years as viceroy, instituted proceedings for divorce against him, citing among others her own maid as a co-respondent, and Surgeon Major Briggs, the medical officer of her husband's staff, as a technical witness in support of her charges of cruelty.

Knowing how crushing the evidence of Dr. Briggs would be against him, Lord Connemara brought all his influence to bear to get the military authorities to order the doctor, who was in England on leave, to return to India before the case could be tried in London. Accordingly the surgeon long before his leave had expired, received instructions from the war department to return to India without delay. Having been subpoenaed, however, to give evidence at the trial, and knowing that his presence at the same was indispensable to vindicate Lady Connemara, he protested against being ordered back, pointed out that he could not disobey the order of the court, whereupon he was dismissed from the army for insubordination.

Proved the Lord a Brute.

Dr. Briggs remained in London, gave his evidence at the trial and proved circumstances of such a revolting character against Lord Connemara as to not only win for poor Lady Connemara her divorce, but also universal sympathy. Moreover, the storm of indignation aroused by his testimony was so strong Lord Connemera was immediately deprived of his governorship and found it prudent to permit two full years to elapse—years spent in traveling abroad—before he ventured to return home.

In spite of this, so powerful was the social influence exercised by Lord Connemara, who, as Robert Burke, had been under secretary of state for foreign affairs, that Dr. Briggs, the youngest surgeon lieutenant colonel of the service, who had won distinction in several campaigns, was unable to secure his reinstatement to the army. Parliament was appealed to in vain. The Burke influence at court and with the government was too strong, and at length Lady Connemara, who had insisted on dropping the name of her first husband, gave her hand to the man who had so chivalrously sacrificed his career for her sake. He subsequently changed his name from Briggs to Broun, and she died as Lady Susan Broun, about four years ago, leaving him her entire fortune.

Lord Connemara subsequently married the extremely wealthy widow of a great mustard manufacturer, who predeceased him. Both his marriages remained without issue. He was a younger brother of that earl of Mayo who was assassinated while viceroy of India. One of his nephews is the present earl of Mayo, who has been several times before the public, once in connection with his elopement with the wife of Lord de la Zouche.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Charles F. Nevin.

Charles F. Nevin died at his home in Linden avenue, Sewickley, at 7:45 o'clock last night. Mr. Nevin was one of the most prominent men in the Sewickley valley and was also well-known throughout the western end of the state. He had not been in his usual health for the past two years. In November, 1900, he suffered from pneumonia, which left him in a weakened condition and his malady gradually grew worse until contumption developed. For the past few months he had been staying at Lake Kanawa, N. Y., and only arrived in Sewickley, Sunday, coming in a private car. Mr. Nevin was born in Sewickley, on May 19, 1848, and was the son of the late Theodore H. Nevin. He had resided in Sewickley all his life and was connected with the growth and prosperity of that borough. He started in business early with his father, with whom he organized the Nevin Paint & White Lead Company, with a factory in Allegheny, of which he had been president since 1870. He was also an inspector on the prison board, to which office he succeeded his father in 1884. Mr. Nevin was a trustee and active member of the First Presbyterian church of Sewickley, being a trustee for over 15 years. He was also a director and first vice president of the Edgeworth club. For the past three terms he had been president of Sewickley borough council and served two previous terms with that body in the eighties. He was prominent in business, church, social and political life of the valley and held many positions of honor and trust. In 1874 he married Miss Elizabeth Grafton, a sister of William McC. Grafton. He was a Republican in politics and was an active party worker. He is survived by his wife and two children—Theodore Nevin, a senior at Yale university, and Miss Elizabeth, at home. He is also survived by one brother and sister, Frank P. Nevin and Mrs. J. B. Booth. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock.

Prof. Virchow's Funeral.

Berlin yesterday gave the remains of Prof. Virchow a funeral worthy of the great scientist. The town hall was profusely decorated with laurels, palms and flowers and the assembly room of the magistracy, where the services were held, was lavishly decorated. There were also many floral memorials from all parts of Germany and from some foreign cities. The assembly room was crowded with the most distinguished professors, scientists and physicians of the capital and with the highest medical officers of the Germany army. Pastor Kirtzes made a short address of general eulogy. Prof. Waldeyer followed, characterizing Prof. Virchow's scientific work. Justice Albert Traeger, a member of the reichstag, sketched the deceased's character and activity as a politician, and Chief Burgomaster Kirschner extolled Virchow's work as a town councilor of Berlin and his activity in applying scientific truth for the benefit of the people, in organizing hospitals, drainage systems and museums.

The Rev. Dr. John Cook Schofield.

The Rev. Dr. John Cook Scofield, for 12 years presiding elder of the Erie conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, died at the home of his grandson, Dr. Guy S. Shugert, at Rochester, Pa., last evening. His death was due to paralysis, with which he was seized on Sunday. He was born in Cattaraugus county, N. Y., August 26, 1826. Shortly afterward his parents moved to within a short distance of the present site of Chautauqua, with the educational interests of which he was years later prominently identified. After graduating from Drew Theological seminary he went west, being one of the 1849 pioneer settlers of California. In 1852 he returned home and resumed his studies for the ministry. Among the important charges which

IN THE OIL FIELDS

The production of the Keener sand pool on Big Knot run is increasing and has now reached the highest point since it was discovered. Agitating and shooting the wells has much to do with holding up the production. Under agitation Monday the Three Forks Oil Company's No. 6 on the Elroy Wagner farm increased from 400 to 600 barrels; No. 4 on the same farm was shot on the same day and responded by producing 50 barrels an hour for a time. Nos. 1 and 3 on this farm are holding up at 150 and 175 barrels a day, respectively. The gauge of Mallory Bros. & Co.'s Nos. 1 to 4 inclusive, on the John Freeland farm, for the 24 hours ending yesterday morning, was 1,020 barrels. The South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 Morgan Hemsworth is producing 120 barrels. No. 1 Hall, Browse & Zahniser, Weekley heirs' farm, 125 barrels, and the Drillers Oil Company's No. 1 George Evans, 500 barrels a day. Operations in this and the Wolf Pen run district are increasing rapidly.

On McFarlan creek, Murphy district, the Southern Oil Company has completed its No. 2 on the J. A. Hoover farm and has a small pumper, not good for more than five barrels a day, in the salt sand. In the Cairo district the Hudson Oil Company has drilled its No. 10 on Gaughan & Keating tract through the salt sand, and has a show for a 25-barrel producer.

Ten-Mile Creek to the Front.

On Grass run branch of Ten Mile creek, Harrison county, the Eastern Oil Company has drilled in a test well on the Sabina Hall farm and has a 175-barrel producer. The same company has completed No. 4 on the Ritter heirs' farm and has a 10-barrel pumper. On Patterson fork R. T. Lowndes has completed No. 7 on the L. Bowden farm and has a 15-barrel pumper in the Gordon sand.

In the old Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company's test on the Marion E. Brookins farm has increased its production to 35 barrels a day in the Big Injun sand.

In the Cross Roads district, Monongalia county, the South Penn Company's No. 24 on the Vaught & Walker farm, an old Gordon sander, drilled down to the fifth sand, is showing for 10 barrels a day. In this and the old Fairview district drilling the old wells to the lower sand promises to become a feature of the near future line. The experiment, so far as tested, shows that small wells can be had in the fifth sand in both counties. The best have not proven good for more than 50 barrels a day.

In the McKim creek development, Meade district, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 20 on the J. L. Poe farm through the Cow run sand, and has a show for a 10 or 15-barrel pumper.

In the Eureka district, Pleasants county, J. R. Shingleton has drilled a test well on the Pleasants county farm through the Berea grit, and has a duster.

In the same district the Capital Oil Company has drilled No. 25 on the J. D. Reynolds farm through the Cow run sand, and has a five-barrel pumper.

In the Grier district, Wood county, the test well on the S. P. Compton farm, owned by J. S. Fierpoint & Co., has been drilled through the Macksburg sand at a depth of 1,092 feet, and is a duster.

Southeastern Ohio.

The old shallow sand wells in the Marietta district, Washington county, Ohio, show excellent staying qualities. A. A. Cameron's No. 4 Grinch and No. 1 T. L. Ormiston farm are each producing 125 barrels a day. C. W. Lord's No. 2 H. C. Martin, 120 barrels a day.

R. H. Gillespie has completed his No. 5 on the Cone heirs' farm and will not have better than a five-barrel pumper.

In the Wolf Creek district, Morgan county, A. Guard has completed No. 2 on the G. W. Murdock farm and has a show for a 10 or 12-barrel pumper.

New lots in the same county, A. R. Allen & Co. have completed their No. 11 on the Isaac and J. R. Ball farm and have a light show of oil.

In the Whiting district, Washington county, the United States Oil and Gas Company has completed its No. 3 on the G. Angenstein farm and has a duster.

South of the old Bowerstown development, Blacksville district, Ohio county, the Indo Gas and Oil Company has drilled in its test well on the Sarah J. Jobes farm and has a five-barrel pumper. The same company has completed its No. 2 on the Isaac Miller farm and has a 15-barrel pumper.

In the same district the Sun Oil Company has completed a test on the Robert Penman farm and has a five-barrel pumper.

In the Knoxville, Jefferson county, C. M. Crawford & Co. have drilled their No. 2 on the L. Swickard farm through the sand and have a duster.

In the same district E. E. Francey & Co. have completed No. 3 on the Sarah F. McClelland farm and have a duster.

The Local Fields.

Two miles north and in advance of the Smiths Ferry field, in Beaver county, Pa., Haley Bros. have completed a test well on the Clark Hunter farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper.

In the Turkeyfoot extension and across the state line in Hancock county, Mangus & Co. have drilled their No. 5 on the W. N. Bell farm through the Berea grit and have a little show of oil. They will drill deeper and then test the formations.

In the Beaver valley the Fort Pitt Gas Company has drilled its test on the Elkin farm through the boulder and have a duster.

AN "EXPANSIVE" GIRL.

Not Necessarily an Expensive One.

A little Kansas girl is called an "expansionist" because her clothes require "letting out" so often. She lives mostly on Grape-Nuts since recovering from a sick spell caused by too much greasy food.

Almost all ailments of children (and grown folks as well) are traceable to the wrong kind of food, and the surest cure is to quit the old sort, the greasy, pasty, undercooked or overdone things, that ruin the stomach and bowels.

Put the children and adults on the perfectly cooked food Grape-Nuts.

It is digested by the weakest stomach. Has the delicate sweet flavor of the Grape Sugar and surely and quickly rebuilds the body, brain and nerves. There's a reason.

Society.

A NUMBER of changes were made yesterday morning in the summer exhibition of paintings in the art galleries of the Carnegie Institute. The entire group of paintings lent during the summer season by Andrew Carnegie was removed and the vacant spaces upon the walls were filled with four paintings lent by the Hon. James Hay Reed. The occasional changes which have been made since the early summer have added interest to the summer exhibition, which this season will remain open until October 5. The galleries will then be closed and the permanent collection and the loan exhibition removed to make room for the annual fall exhibition to open on Founder's Day, November 8.

In the group of paintings added yesterday to the present exhibition and owned by Judge Reed are "The Farmer's Boy," by John W. Beatty; "The Stream: Scalp Level," by George Hetzel; "In the Orchard: Springtime," D. Ridgeway Knight; and the "Return of the Flock: Evening," by Willem Steelink. "The Farmer's Boy" is Mr. Beatty's latest work and is conspicuously hung in the east gallery. It represents the farmer's boy at the close of day leading his horse home through the fields. Mr. Hetzel's painting of Scalp Level is one of his characteristic canvases, with its depth of forest shade and the glint of the sunlight upon the water as the mountain stream flows over its rocky bed. "In the Orchard" represents a buxom Dutch lass beneath the blossoming fruit trees, a representative painting of Ridgeway Knight. In the main gallery hangs Steelink's "Return of the Flock," a strong painting depicting the sheep and their shepherd at the fold in the crisp, deepening twilight of a cold winter day.

William Henry Howe's "Early Start to Market" has replaced "Love in the Harvest Field" by H. H. La Thangue.

In the collection of works owned by Andrew Carnegie which was removed from the galleries yesterday morning were "All Hands on Deck," by Robert W. Allan; "Sunshine and Wave," R. M. G. Coventry; "Midsummer Evening," Charles H. Davis; "Diana," Jean Leon Gerome; "A Day at Home, Bradywine Courtyard," William H. Howe; "Love in the Harvest Field," H. H. La Thangue; and "Grandpa," Charles E. Proctor.

The present exhibition includes a number of paintings lent by John Moorhead, Jr., John Caldwell, Charles Donnelly, William N. Frew and George S. Page.

R·I·P·A·N·S

For two years I had been complaining and at times I felt so miserable I could not work. I could not get rid of the nasty sick feeling at my stomach. It was indigestion. I would feel so sick at my stomach in the mornings that I was compelled to return to bed instead of attending to my work. My face became sallow looking, and I was getting real thin. I saw Ripans advertised and tried them about one year ago, one after each meal. Soon I noticed that full feeling in the stomach began to disappear, then I was encouraged and had great faith in Ripans Tabules. At the end of three months I saw a great change.

League Games Today.

Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Chicago at New York.
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at Boston.

From New York comes a story that President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club held a conference with Pitchers Chesbro and Tannehill and that they demanded $17,000 each for a two-season contract with the champions. Sam Crane, who is authority for the statement, says that the Pirates' owner offered his hold-over pitchers $11,000 each, but his offer was refused.

It is thought the demand on the part of Chesbro and Tannehill is made not with any idea of acceptance, but to bring about a refusal which will be used to justify a jump into the American. It is understood the pitchers already are under agreement to play with that organization. Chesbro's demand is about $500 short of what he asked on the day the champions started east. On that day "Happy Jack" called on Mr. Dreyfuss, and when asked if he had made up his mind as to the amount wanted for next year, he replied that he would remain with the Pittsburgh club for the next two seasons for $17,500. He was told he had better think the matter over for a while longer.

Big Salary Demand.

The salary demands being made by the ball players at present have caused a writer to sum up the offers and demands made to and by the various star players, and it is of interest to baseball followers. Of course there is competition for the services of the more prominent players, but this must be remembered: every player is his own press agent, every player is looking out for the big end of things; and at least half of the alleged high-money jumpers are boosting their own game to scare huge salaries out of their present managers.

A glance over the ranks of the men in the two leagues sizes up in about this fashion:

Some American league man will pay Billy Lauder $4,000, George Smith $3,500 and Frank Bowerman $3,200.

Philadelphia—Bill Douglass will receive $8,700 from McAleer.

Pittsburgh—Tannehill will draw $4,000 from Comiskey, Chesbro will haul in $6,000 from some American lobster, Harry Smith will yank $3,000 from some Johnsonite without brains, Lefty Davis' pay will be $3,500. Honus Wagner is to play with St. Louis, Detroit and three or four others, and his salaries will range from $4,500 to $7,174. Bransfield is to get $3,300. Leach's pay in the younger league will be $4,000. Conroy will get $3,200. O'Connor is to receive $3,500 and $800 as traitor's fee.

St. Louis—Patsy Donovan will manage an American league team for $5,000. Paul Kruger is to get $4,000 if the insanity courts don't get the man who offered it. Detroit is to pay Jack Ryan $5,000.

The Other League.

National league—Boston: Gene Demont is to get $4,500 from Washington. Fred Tenney will draw $3,000 from Detroit. Vic Willis can have $5,000 from either of two American clubs, and a big bonus for signing.

Brooklyn—Willie Keeler can have a captaincy and $5,000 from a couple of American clubs.

Chicago—Jocko Menefee can get $3,721 from Tom Loftus, Joe Tinker is to fill in his American league contract at his own figures.

Cincinnati—Sam Crawford will get $4,500 and $1,000 bonus from Detroit—if he goes back on the contract he has just signed with the Reds.

New York—Christy Matthewson will get $8,000 from the St. Louis Browns.

Baltimore—Jimmy Williams will play with three National league teams at $4,000 a throw.

Boston—Jimmy Collins will jump to Frank Selee for $6,500. Ferris and Parent will go to Cincinnati for $4,000 apiece. Warner will return to New York for $3,500.

Chicago—Sammy Strang will play in Brooklyn for $5,200. Sandscow Mertes goes to McGraw for $4,000. Isbell will be taken by some National goat for $3,700. Tom Daly goes back to Brooklyn for $4,500, which will be fully justified by his .311 batting record. Eddie McFarland will go back to Philadelphia for $4,800. Wiley Piatt has already hooked the Boston trimmers for $4,200.

Cleveland—Billy Bradley will hop back to Chicago for $5,000. Napoleon Lajoie goes to McGraw for $9,000 and the Polo ground fence. Flick hops to two National teams for $4,000 each. McCarthy returns to Chicago for $3,800. Gochnaur joins Brooklyn for $3,100. Earl Moore hies him to the Reds for $3,500. Wright and Joss chase to Brooklyn—$4,000 each.

Detroit—Jimmy Barrett joins four clubs; $4,500 gets him. Norman Elberfeld will take down the same amount from New York. Buelow will hook McGraw for $3,000. Jim McGuire returns to Brooklyn for $3,000. Some fool manager takes Jimmy Casey for $4,000.

Rube in Every Team.

Philadelphia—Harry Davis goes Pologrounding for $3,750. Lave Cross goes to Rogers—$5,000. Ditto Monte Cross—$4,000. Plank will hop for $3,200. Rube Waddell has agreed to play with Brooklyn, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Punxsutawney, his salary will be $24,000, and he is not to be required to pitch.

St. Louis—Forty-six thousand takes Burkett to New York. Heidrick goes the same way for $5,000. Anderson goes with both Boston and Brooklyn for $5,000. Wallace will play left-handed in one town and right-footed in another—$5,600 in each place. Frank Donahue is to get $7,500 from Rogers.

Washington—Delehanty joins McGraw for $8,000 and an egg with each one. Coughlin joins New York for $4,000. Bill Clarke will be tempted for $4,000. The Reds will pay Wyatt Lee $4,000.

Took Barney's Breath Away

A special telegram from New York says: Rain prevented the Pirates from playing their last scheduled engagement at Polo grounds today. "We wanted to get even for that double defeat of Monday," one of the players said, "and what we would have done to McGraw and his tribe would have been plenty."

Dreyfuss is having more trouble than he anticipated signing his pitching cracks. This morning he took occasion to sound Tannehill and Chesbro on the amounts they wanted for next season. Tannehill took the Pittsburgh president's breath away when he said: "We'll each sign a two years' contract with you, Mr. Dreyfuss for $17,000. Unless we get that sum we'll jump to the American league."

Dreyfuss couldn't talk for a minute. When he regained his breath he said: "In an hour I'll offer each of you a two years' contract calling for $11,000. That is as far as I'll go. If you like the American league better than you do Pittsburgh you may go with Johnson."

Better Than the American Offer.

The trio separated and in an hour Mr. Dreyfuss sent the contracts to the players. They placed them in their pockets and said they never would sign with Pittsburgh at those figures. It is known here, however, that the contracts call for $1,000 more for the two years than the American league has offered.

John T. Brush, who is in this city, said that he had indefinitely suspended Shortstop Hulswitt of Philadelphia for engaging in a fight with Maloney of Cincinnati during a game in Philadelphia on Monday. Mr. Brush said Maloney was not punished because it was proved that Hulswitt was the aggressor.

MADE THE HITS COUNT.

Boston Took an In and Out Game from Chicago.

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Boston defeated Selee's Chicago team in an in-and-out game today. Hardy pitched for the visitors and held Boston down to seven hits, but they all counted, while Chicago's ten hits off Malarkey were mixed with some fast fielding by Boston. A one-hand catch by Long was the feature. Score:

The McVay cup, which has been up for competition all summer on the Edgeworth course at Sewickley, was won yesterday afternoon by Christy Payne, who defeated W. N. Mr. Kerr was the leader in the last handicap.

In the mixed foursome match play, J. W. Dix and Miss Mary Cree Porter with a handicap of 8 strokes, defeated Mr. and Mrs. Christy Payne won, hitting as out of possible 50; Ross Withrow and Dr. Will Taylor tied at 47.

RYAN-CARTER FIGHT.

Both Men Are at Weight and the Bout Promises to Be a Lively One.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—The 20-round contest for the middleweight championship of the world between Tommy Ryan and Kid Carter, to take place before the International Athletic club on Monday evening, is creating as much interest among the followers of the boxing game as any of the heavyweight contests in the east. Orders for seats have been received from all parts of the country by the management, and a record-breaking crowd is looked for.

Reports from the training quarters of both Ryan and Carter are to the effect that the men are to weight and in condition to battle for their lives. The articles of agreement call for Ryan and Carter to box 20 rounds for a purse of $5,000, of which the winner is to receive $4,000 and the loser $1,000.

The betting is getting more spirited as the day of the contest approaches. Ryan is still the favorite, the odds being 5 even to five but jumping from the amount of better money in sight, the latter will be close to an even choice when the men enter the ring on Monday evening. George Siler will referee the bout.

BIG COLLEGE TEAMS LIKELY TO MEET HERE

Phil. King Says Western Teams Will Never Invade the East Again to Play.

The football lovers of Western Pennsylvania may have a chance soon to witness some of the big eastern college teams in action, and western college teams played in this city. Western college teams will never again go to New York or Hartford to compete with the big eastern teams, according to Phil King, the celebrated coach and football player of the Princeton team, who was in the city for a short time last night.

"The football game of college teams," said Mr. King, "will never go east to play any of the big eastern college teams again. The trip is too long and the players get out of condition. In the future Pittsburgh will be selected as a central point. The contesting teams will then be free from their environments and better work will result.

Mr. King was on his way to the University of Wisconsin, where he will coach the football team of the university for this season. He has coached the team for two seasons and at the close of the present season he said he would retire from football.

HERE WAS A GOOD THING.

Mr. Dingle, a 25 to 1 Shot, Won First Race at Harlem.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Mr. Dingle, lately brought here from the east, furnished a surprise at Harlem today, winning the first race in handy fashion at odds of 25 to 1. It was the colt's first start here, and as nothing was known of him he went begging in the betting, even at the liberal price offered against him. He showed a wonderful turn of speed, leading into the stretch by five lengths. He was tiring fast at the end of the five furlong journey, however, enough he lasted long enough to beat Rankin, a 30 to 1 chance, a scant length in a hard drive.

Laerimae, recently barred (except in stake engagements), because of her in-and-out running, won the Cicero stakes at a gallop, a canter from Major Dixon, who beat Ethel Wheat ten lengths for the place. Laerimae was favorite at 9 to 5. Weather cloudy; track slow. Summary:

First race, 5 furlongs—Mr. Dingle, 108, Mathews, 25 to 1, won; Rankin, 108, Helgeson, 30 to 1, second; King Hammon, 118, R. Williams, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:04 1-5. Canyon, Gallilla, Jake Miller, Jackfall, Small Cale, Zephyr and Angelo also ran.

Second race, 6 furlongs—Little Jack Horner, 103, Graham, 8 to 1, won; Andes, 108, Robbins, 7 to 1, second; She Wins, 104, Hoar, 60 to 1, third. Time, 1:17 3-5. Silver Fizz, Mountebank, Messina, Harney, Orla, Theory also ran.

Third race, the Cicero stakes, 1 mile—Laerimae, 99, Helgeson, 5 to 5, won; Major Dixon, 102, Robbins, 4 to 2, second; Ethel Wheat, 107, J. Mathews, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:43 2-5. Rolling Boer, Bab, Champagne also ran.

Fourth race, 1 mile—Garry Herrmann, 108, Buchanan, 9 to 5, won; Bon Mot, 110, Mathews, 11 to 10, second; Water Edge, 99, Birkenruth, 11 to 2, third. Time, 1:45 3-5. Taipa and Harrowsbury also ran.

Fifth race, 4½ furlongs—Gregor K., 108, Mathews, 7 to 5, won; Hattie Walker, 99, Davieson, 3 to 1, second; Agnes Mack, 105, Donnelly, 12 to 1, third. Time, 0:54. Sabinal, Garry Glenn and Dodond also ran.

Sixth race, 1¼ miles—Ed Acack, 107, Mathews, 6 to 1, won; Marcos, 101, Hoar, 7 to 5, second; Freeman, 103, Helgeson, 5 to 1, third. Time, 2:09 3-5. Lady Chorister and Cougar also ran.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYERS TO BEGIN WORK.

Athletic Association Met Yesterday and Elected Officers for Present Season.

The first football of the season for the local school teams will be in evidence this afternoon on the Pittsburgh High school gridiron, when the candidates will be called together and given their opening practice.

Professor Ridgely, an old eastern college player, will have charge of the High school candidates at present, but it is the hope of the students to raise sufficient funds to provide a first-class coach this season. The public school is most anxious to remove the handicap which it has always suffered in competition with Shadyside and Kiskiminetas by the lack of a good coach.

Being called to life by the approach of the football season, the High School Athletic association held its semi-annual meeting yesterday and elected officers and athletic managers for the ensuing year. Henry Nickel was elected president; J. Simpson vice president; H. Fischer secretary; Professor Cooper treasurer; Nickel manager of the basketball team and A. Patterson of the baseball cohorts.

Twelve members of last year's football team held a meeting and elected Quarterback Baner the captain for the present season, Diebold running a close race for the honor. Besides the seasoned members of last year's team there are some new players in school with good records. Davies, the quarterback of the Los Angeles, Cal., High school team, has entered the junior year at the academical department. Campbell, the crack center of the Iroquois club, enters High school from the Liberty school, and will add strength to the line. Zelch, of the Mt. Washington club, is another addition.

FIGHT WILL TAKE PLACE.

Manager Gray Says Corbett and McGovern Are Sure to Meet on Scheduled Time.

Robert C. Gray, manager of the Southern Athletic club at Louisville, where the Corbett-McGovern match is scheduled to take place, sends the following telegram:

LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 9.—Gazette, Pittsburg: Deadlock between leading lightweights, the featherweight world's championship contest scheduled for September 22, before the Southern Athletic club, between Young Corbett and McGovern, will undoubtedly take place. The public may depend upon this. The hour for the contest will be about 10 p. m. J. J. Corbett will be referee.

Manager Southern A. C.

Natrona Defeated McDonald.

NATRONA, PA., Sept. 9.—(Special.)—The strong McDonald team met defeat here this afternoon in a very interesting contest. The fielding by both teams were rather ragged, McDonald making 7 errors, but batted hard up for hits, scored only 5 runs, their base runners being held tight in the bases by Catcher Cotwell. Spanger, McDonald's unassisted twirler, was touched for 10 hits, and lost his first game of the season. The score:

	R.	H.	E.

STORM CAUSED DAMAGE.

Wind Played Havoc in the Valleys and Destroyed Property.

A rain and wind storm yesterday did considerable damage. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the storm was at its worst and the wind blew at the rate of 24 miles an hour. The rainfall was nearly half an inch.

The first damage done was the blowing down of the big banner stretched across Sixth avenue in front of the Republican headquarters. The guy lines tore out a portion of the brick work to which they were attached on the building at No. 415 Sixth avenue.

In the Monongahela river the Francis J. Torrance, the Mayflower, Annie Roberts, Elenor, Lookout and the Anchor line wharfboat were forced from their landings and jammed into each other, causing several hundred dollars' worth of damage to the boats.

At Homestead several telegraph and telephone poles were blown down and the wires were so badly tangled that the telephone service was suspended for the rest of the day. At the Carnegie steel works five departments had to shut down. Wires in different parts of the big works were blown down and a large brick smoke stack at the 32-inch mill was blown over and damaged the building. In Eighth avenue a number of show cases were blown to the sidewalk and broken and merchandise was scattered over the street.

A team owned by Joseph H. Rankin of Braddock frightened while passing along Hawkins avenue, North Braddock, and dashed over a 20-foot embankment. The horses were seriously injured.

Charged With Forgery.

Charged with forgery, W. J. O'Reilly of Colfort place was arrested at his home last night by Detectives James W. Eagan and George Cole and taken to Central police station, on information made by J. D. Fraser, cashier of the Monongahela National bank, before Alderman McMasters. O'Reilly is accused of forging a check for $350 on his employer, G. W. Hale, manager of the Bijou building, on Friday night.

SAYS CITY SOLICITOR IS IN THE WRONG

The Controller Is Advised That the City Has No Right to Borrow Money to Make Up Deficiencies in Appropriations.

City Controller John B. Larkin yesterday received from George W. Guthrie an opinion as to whether the city government has the right to borrow money to satisfy deficiencies in appropriations. Mr. Guthrie is Controller Larkin's private counsel, and his right to have private counsel in his capacity as city controller has been established by the Allegheny courts. Mr. Guthrie is a well-known lawyer and assisted in drafting the present charter act, under which the city of Pittsburgh is now being operated. His opinion is diametrically opposed to that which City Solicitor Thomas D. Carnahan furnished City Recorder J. O. Brown on the same subject. The opinion by Mr. Guthrie is as follows:

Pittsburgh, Sept. 9, 1902.

Hon. John B. Larkin,
City Controller,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir—I have carefully read the opinion of the city solicitor in relation to your duty in certifying warrants, but am unable to agree with him.

It is true that the word "funds" has more than one meaning in the dictionary, but the same may be said to the majority of the important words in the English language. The question for us, however, is what is the meaning to be attached to it in the connection in which it is used in section A, article 8, of the act of March 7, 1901?

Two Well-Established Rules.

In determining this question there are two well-established rules to be borne in mind. First—That the word is to be construed according to its context, taking in not merely the section in which it appears, but the whole of the article of which that section is a part; and second, that the provisions contained in this article are remedial and should be construed to remedy the evil against which it was directed.

The purpose of this article was to provide a system by which the executive officers of the city would be compelled to keep the annual expenses within the annual income.

No contract is binding upon the city until it has been certified by the controller, and section 7, of the article, prohibits the controller from certifying any contracts "in excess of the appropriation applicable thereto."

The reason of permitting the controller to certify contracts up to the amount of the "appropriation" was that contracts are usually made in advance of the receipts from taxation; and if the appropriation is made in good faith and based upon a reasonable calculation of the amount to be received from the tax levied at the time the appropriation is made the city will not be subjected to any liability beyond the amount of the cash on hand at the proper time to pay it when due.

A Possible Contingency.

If the appropriations were based upon estimates so excessive as to appear fraudulent on the face of, might be the duty of the controller to refuse to certify a contract, even when not in excess of the appropriations, for appropriations based on fraudulent estimates would themselves be fraudulent. But that question does not come up now.)

The provisions of the article in relation to the payment of money, however, go even farther. Section 4 not only prohibits the controller from "suffering" any appropriation to be overdrawn, "but also prohibits him from drawing upon any appropriation unless sufficient funds out of the same to pay said warrant is payable shall actually be in the treasury at the time."

The city attorney says that according to the dictionary the word "funds" may mean not only cash, but securities, and that the power to tax is a security. The context, however, clearly shows that the word was not used in any such sense.

In order that a warrant may be certified by the controller "the funds must be actually in the treasury at the time." The power to tax belongs to the city, not to the treasurer, and can never be "actually in the treasury." There is no provision in the law for any "funds" to be in the treasury except cash itself.

Would Make It Superfluous.

It is apparent, therefore, that the interpretation suggested by the city attorney is in conflict with the whole tenor of the act, would make the clause now under consideration superfluous, and would defeat the remedy to secure which it was introduced.

Warrants are issued not for the purpose of creating a liability on the part of the city, but solely for the purpose of drawing money from the treasury, after the time has passed on which the money is payable, and under the act of April 22, 1874, would, upon conviction, be liable to fine and imprisonment. If, on the other hand the debt is incurred when money is beyond call to pay the warrants, the officers participating in that transaction would also be guilty of a misdemeanor and liable, upon conviction, to fine and imprisonment.

It is apparent, therefore, that however we look at the question the action would be illegal.

Truly yours,
(Signed.) GEORGE W. GUTHRIE,
Attorney.

NOTICE!

TO OUR MANY INQUIRING FRIENDS AND THE MANY PROSPECTIVE LOT PURCHASERS WHO WERE DISAPPOINTED IN NOT BEING ABLE TO SECURE LOTS

in WEST LIBERTY PLAN NO. 1, the reason for which was that people simply came on in a rush and snapped up the 600 lots in a week. We made representations at that time that operations would be commenced at once on the new MT. WASHINGTON TUNNEL and HIGHSPEED RAILROAD; and in order to give all a fair chance, notified the disappointed people that no further lots would be put on sale in WEST LIBERTY until we gave further evidence of good faith by making some headway on this mammoth project.

500 men are employed now, working day and night on the wonderful MT. WASHINGTON TUNNEL and HIGHSPEED RAILROAD, and this gigantic and unprecedented enterprise is being pushed as rapidly and vigorously as human ingenuity, skill, labor, capital and up-to-date machinery can do it. In addition to this a large force of men are working on WEST LIBERTY PLAN NO. 2, sewering, grading and paving the Entire Plot.

A ROCKEFELLER GOULD ALLIANCE SEEMS PROBABLE

Object Is Protection of Wabash System Against the Pennsy.

STOCKS INVOLVED LEAD THE MARKET

Three New Feeders of the United States Steel Corporation About to Be Incorporated—Speculators Independent of Rates.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 9.—Whether or not the technical importance of the traffic arrangement that has been entered into between the Missouri Pacific and the St. Paul has been exaggerated, the apparent closer relations of these two systems is a matter of great significance.

It tends, at least, to confirm the professional Wall street belief that a definite understanding exists between the Gould party and Standard Oil interests. The Standard dominates the St. Paul and is known to have become heavily interested in Missouri Pacific. Its holdings of Missouri Pacific are understood to be very nearly as large as those of the Gould party itself. The implication is, of course, that the Standard Oil interests will support the Goulds against the Pennsylvania people or any other set of financiers that may undertake to embarrass the progress of the greater Missouri Pacific system to the eastern seaboard.

It is unbelievable that the Goulds alone would antagonize the Pennsylvania interests. Close observers of stock market conditions have been suspecting for a long time that the Goulds and the Rockefeller interests are hand in hand.

Center of Stock Market Stage.

It may be a bit premature to regard the Missouri Pacific-St. Paul traffic arrangement as an open avowal of a financial alliance between the Gould party and the Standard Oil people, but the suggestion is inevitable. Missouri Pacific made a new high record price in today's session of the stock market, at 125¾. The Gould stocks occupied the center of the stock market stage today.

In the afternoon the Wabash securities took first place in speculative attention and held it until the close. The debenture B bonds advanced to a new high record price, at 89, and were enormously active. The Wabash shares, too, made new high record prices.

A Big People's Market.

Theoretical students of stock market affairs have been greatly puzzled to account for the advance of stock values from one pinnacle to another, notwithstanding that the money market is in straits and that all precedents are against rising values in September. In point of fact, the higher range of call interest rates is hurting only the little people, or weak borrowers. The controlling speculative interests and all of the larger commission houses have been forehanded enough to provide themselves with time money in liberal amounts. It amounts to this, therefore, that the money situation is not worrying the big people, and this is nothing if not a big people's market.

Judging from the loss the banks have already sustained through sub-treasury operations, the coming bank statement will show another contraction in cash. Since Friday the returns of the sub-treasury show an absorption of nearly $4,000,000, due to internal revenue collections and transfers of currency to the interior.

It was learned today that a number of banks had cautioned their stock exchange customers against over-speculation. In fact, bankers show no disposition to make an effort to break money rates.

Steel Shares Not Hurt.

The action of Vice Chancellor Emery in denying the application of counsel for the United States Steel Corporation to have stricken from the files of the court the bill against the corporation, on the ground that the suit is an imposition, did not affect the Steel shares to any noticeable extent. The common stock sold up to 41⅝ at the opening in sympathy with the higher level in London. The closing was made at 41⅜, a net gain of ¼ point. The preferred stock closed with a similar gain.

Three New Feeders for Combine.

Within the next few weeks a number of important companies that have been organized recently will apply to the stock exchange for the listing of their respective securities. Among them are the American Steel Foundries, United States Shipbuilding and International Nickel Company. The United Steel Corporation is more or less identified with all three of the foregoing companies.

Sloss-Sheffield Earnings.

As generally expected, the earnings, as shown by report of the Sloss-Sheffield Steel & Iron Company for the quarter ended August 31 (August estimated), hardly warrant the recent sharp upward movement in the common stock. Within the last few days the stock has sold in the eighties, an advance of something like 30 points since the 1st of July. The report shows a net profit from the operation of $347,168. The surplus is brought down to $137,969, which is applicable for dividends on the $7,500,000 common stock. This is less than 2 per cent.

E. W. HARDEN.

The Treasury and the Banks.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Total payment by government to New York banks yesterday, $2,975,000. Payments by banks to government, $3,694,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $2,729,000 paid by banks to government. Total net payment to banks to government since Friday, $3,970,000 against $945,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago. Included in the foregoing summary is $350,000 deposited by banks with the sub-treasury for payment at interior points.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The scheme of A. P. Knight, the New York promoter, to consolidate all the big mines, reduction works and railroads of Cripple Creek into a $50,000,000 company has been unfavorably received by the persons directly interested. Most of the mine owners prefer to manage their own properties, but one or two are prepared to sell for a good round sum in cash. The promoter, on the other hand, wishes to pay in stock of the consolidated company and pool the stock for a year. President Milliken of the Golden Cycle told Mr. Knight he had better take a balloon, go to the sky and consolidate the stars.

It is reported that the Guggenheim syndicate has thrown up its option on the Ballakiala copper mines near Kennet, Cal. The companies were unable to come together on a common working basis.

The Detroit and California Mining Company is building a dredger with a capacity of 4,000 cubic yards every 24 hours, to operate on Clear creek, Shasta county.

American capitalists have decided to erect a 1,000-ton custom smelting plant in the Kettle river valley near Grand Forks, B. C. An effort will be made to secure the total tonnage of the Snowshoe and Athelstan mines at Phoenix, as well as that of Republic Camp, whose ores it is said, flux well with the sulphide ores of the Boundary country.

In doing assessment work on the Blue Lake claim, Bridport, Idaho, Col. Lewis White broke into a streak of ore carrying values of $800 a ton in gold and silver.

A new shaft on the Clara Belle, near Deadwood, 1,200 feet down 150 feet on the vein, which averages five feet in width between two perfect walls. In the center is a core of crushed quartz from six to 10 inches wide which is rich in gold.

Leadville's iron mines are increasing their tonnage. The daily average of the Midas is 250 tons; that of the New Home and Sixth Avenue, 150 tons, and the Carbonate, 100 tons. The smelters are now taking all the iron ore that can be produced.

The American Copper Company has bought the Alhance claim in Douglas Creek district, Wyo., for $165,000.

An ore body 150 feet long and 20 feet wide has been opened in the long tunnel of the Belcher, near Sumpter, Ore., 1,250 feet from the portal and at a depth of 600 feet.

The Metal Market.

Copper was firm but not active in the New York market today, though prices in some instances were a shade higher. Standard was quoted at 11.50@11.75c; electrolytic, 12.00@12.10c; casting, 11.75@12.00c, and Lake at 12.00@12.25c. In London there was an early advance of 1s 3d, followed by a loss of 2s, and the market there closing at £55 17s 6d for spot and £54 5s for futures. The local market for tin was quiet but a shade easier, quotations ranging from 29c 95 to 27.20. Tin in London was also quiet, prices there being unchanged with spot closing at £118 12s 6d. The London lead market was 1s 3d lower, the closing quotation being £10 7s 6d. In New York lead continued quiet and unchanged at 4.12½c. Spelter was nominally lower, but unchanged in tone locally, the London market also being unchanged at £19 7s 6d. Iron in the English markets was higher, Glasgow closing at 57s 10d and Middlesboro at 54s 9d. The local market was nearly featureless, prices being unchanged with spot closing at £118 12s 6d. The London lead market was 1s 3d lower, the closing quotation being £10 7s 6d. In New York lead continued quiet and unchanged at 4.12½c. Spelter was nominally lower, but unchanged in tone locally, the London market also being unchanged at £19 7s 6d. Iron in the English markets was higher, Glasgow closing at 57s 10d and Middlesboro at 54s 9d. The local market for tin was quiet but a shade easier, quotations ranging from 29c 95 to 27.20. Tin in London was also quiet, prices there

Local Stocks Were Still Quite Active With Some Big Advances

BANK AND TRUST COMPANY ISSUES WERE ALL FIRM

New High Prices Were Scored in the Selling Figures and Final Bids.

PITTSBURGH COAL IS ACTIVE

Common Stock Sold Over 4,300 Shares—Crucible Steel Common Advanced to 24 and Closed Strong—Electrics Quiet.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was still quite active, but the volume of business transacted was not quite so large as that of the day before. The tone was slightly irregular, but a majority of the issues dealt in exhibited much firmness, while some sensational advances were scored, causing the recording of several new high prices. The banking group was particularly interesting, three of its members reaching new high records, while all were firm and the majority showed large advances at the close. A sensational jump was made in First National of Pittsburgh, which sold Monday at 635 and closed at 637. Yesterday 10 shares came out at 640, and after the sale the stock advanced $20 a share in the bid price to 660, a new high record. Offers occurred at $700. Second National of Pittsburgh sold 10 shares at 430, a gain of $10 and a new high record. Pittsburgh Trust Company jumped $15 to $620, a new high record, and just before the close went up $5 more to $665 bid. Another sensational performer was Real Estate Trust, which opened at 280 and went steadily to 290, its former high record, reached in June, 1901. At the close, which was a gain of $8 for the day, the stock was in demand at 294 bid, with 295 asked. Colonial Trust Company was quite active, opening at 408 and advancing to 500 for a small lot. It closed finally at 499, ½ below Monday, with about 150 or 175 shares offering at that price. Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company was also active and scored an advance of $8 at 240, after which 241 was bid. Federal National bank was firm and unchanged at 141, while United States National was in demand at 142, the stock apparently not being affected by the action of the directors, as exclusively announced in The Gazette yesterday, in voting to increase the capital from $200,000 to $500,000. Fidelity Title and Trust Company advanced to $425 bid.

In the industrials Pittsburgh Coal common was active, selling over 4,300 shares at 32@31¾, the close, which was the lowest, being a loss of ¼. The preferred also declined ¼ on small sales to 91¾. River Coal issues were dull and unchanged. Crucible Steel common was firmer and active, advancing easily to 24, sales being over 2,700 shares. The close was at 23¾, and 23½ was bid for 3,000 shares with about 1,500 offering at 24. The preferred was quieter and unchanged. United States Steels were very dull and practically without change. Brewing common was quite active and firm, advancing to 31¾. Window Glass, unchanged but weakened and declined to 61¼, rallying at the close to 61¾. Electrics were dull, the firsts closing with a loss of 1½ at 114 and the seconds gaining 1⅜ at 113⅞. The other changes were immaterial. Bonds were dull but steady to firm.

I can only say that all that a man has learned in the last 15 years by experience has been detrimental to his interests recently. The wisest thing for any person to do now is to ignore what they think the market conditions. It is in their hands and they are putting it up.—Wall street wire.

A Boston broker writes in part: Even from what I consider very good authority, indeed that the present selling price of Rock Island preferred is too low when its prospects are taken into consideration. It will pay 4 per cent and should sell for 90 to 95 well secured, but one must not overlook the fact that the voting power rests in this stock to an extent which will prevent the insiders from undertaking to withhold even though it were to sell higher than it is actually worth.

Wall Street Brokers' Tips.

Manhattan acts like going higher.

I think Union Pacific ought to be a purchase.

The Keene pool is marking up Southern Pacific.

I think Brooklyn Rapid Transit will be put up.

There is quite a big short interest in Atchison and they are uneasy.

Standard Oil interests are quoted as bullish on Chicago Terminal issues.

There is quite a short interest in Baltimore & Ohio which is apt to be squeezed any minute.

The Southern Pacific pool has gone to work again and a further advance there is on the cards.

There seems to be but little doubt that closer relations between St. Paul and Missouri Pacific are assured and both of these stocks look like going still higher.

The majority of the Louisville & Nashville and Southern Railway would seem to indicate that the plan to lease the Louisville & Nashville on a 7 per cent basis to a holding company for the Atlantic system, the Southern Railway jointly and equally, is going through. Louisville & Nashville should sell at 105 or 110 easily if it does.

There are strong bull points current on Missouri, Kansas & Texas, St. Louis & Western, Missouri Pacific and also on San Francisco issues. Keep long of Chesapeake & Ohio, Norfolk & Western and Baltimore & Ohio and take out Pennsylvania on any slight set back. Fractional gains on Gas, Erie and Atchisons may safely be bought on any activity. Steels, Detroit Southern, Cotton Oil and Copper are worthy of bullish attention.—Joseph's.

Dividends.

Manhattan declared the 1 per cent regular quarterly dividend.

A dividend of 2½ per cent will be paid on the preferred stock of Union Traction of Indiana, October 1.

The directors of the Dominion Coal Company declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent on the common, payable October 1.

The directors of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent on the preferred stock.

The directors of Chicago & Eastern Illinois declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the preferred stock, payable October 1.

The regular semi-annual dividend of 1¼ per cent will be paid October 1 on the common stock of the Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad.

The directors of the Royal Baking Powder Company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the preferred stock, payable September 30.

The New Haven Iron and Steel Company directors declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ cents per share (10 per cent per annum), payable September 25.

Unrecorded Quotations.

Wheat, Corn and Oats Closed Higher

RISING PRICES MADE AN ACTIVE GRAIN MARKET

The Uncertain Weather Gave Color to a Bullish Argument.

ALL CEREALS CLOSED WITH ADVANCE

Predictions of Big Movement of Wheat in the Northwest Were Not Fulfilled — Maturing of Corn Was Not Promising.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Cereals acted bullish today. The often predicted big movement of wheat in the northwest failed to appear, the weather worked against the maturing corn and stocks of grains generally were decreasing. With those conditions and more outside business developing the bull view of the market spread, and after early dips prices closed firm, September wheat 5c up, December wheat ½@⅝c higher, September corn ⅝c higher, December corn ⅝@¾c up, September oats ⅝@¾c higher and December oats ½@⅝c higher. January provisions closed 2½c lower to 5c higher.

Wheat paused a moment early in trading before making an end of the bearish market that has prevailed for several days. The cause was probably the dip in corn. Soon, however, several very good bull arguments were considered, and although at no time was the bull movement strong, yet the session ended with good advances. Cables were unexpectedly firmer, and the big receipts heralded from the northwest dwindled down to insignificance when the figures were put on paper.

Good Buying Started.

A leading elevator house started a good buying movement and gradually most of the crowd followed after. Statistics were somewhat bullish. The northwestern wheat stocks have decreased 5,821,000 bushels; receipts are still running much under last year's figures, although locally there was an improvement today. The world's visible supply increased 3,800,000 bushels, but the poverty of quality in receipts did much to counteract any bearish influence from that quarter.

There was some disposition to sell May, but in spite of the dull spots in the market the general sentiment favored buying and was augmented late in the day by an excellent export demand. The weather in the spring country, which is yet much of a factor, was favorable. September wheat started 1c to 1¼c lower, at 71c to 70¾c, reacted to 71¼c, and closed firm, ⅜c up, at 71¾c. December sold from 69c to 67¾c, reacted to 68¾c, and closed firm, ⅜@⅝c up, at 68¼@68⅝c.

Local receipts were 305 cars, only 3 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported only 712 cars, making a total for the three points of 1,017 cars against 1,585 last week and 1,707 a year ago. Primary receipts were 1,025,000 bushels compared to 1,633,000 bushels last year.

Corn Ruled Firm.

Corn ruled firm, and at the outset prices fell off because the light frosts in Nebraska and Iowa were not of the damaging kind. Further, there was a strong early drive by prominent bears to break price—something that has occurred regularly for several days. The weakness, however, was only momentary. Inherent strength in the corn situation started good buying and there was rapid absorption of offerings. The principal bullish incentives were decreased country offerings, firm cables and reduced stocks.

All the news was not bullish, for the southwest was expecting an increased movement soon, and warmer weather was predicted. Leaders felt, however, that the cool weather and rains, even without frost, were against the hardening of the corn. Iowa, especially, has had too much rain. December sold off early to 42¼c on short driving, but closed firm ⅝@¾c up, at 43⅝@43¾c. September sold between 56⅜c and 57¼c, and closed ⅝c up, at 57⅜c. Receipts were 279 cars, 48 of contract grade.

Trade in oats was light, but prices advanced with other grains. Early offerings brought slight dips. Standard oats in store increased 98,000 bushels, but all told there were only 190,000 bushels of this grade here. Iowa crops were reported hurt to some extent by the heavy rains. September sold from 33¾c to a firm close, ⅝@¾c higher, at 34¼@34½c. December sold early at 30¾c, advanced to 31½, and closed firm ½@⅝c up, at 31⅜c. Receipts were liberal at 476 cars, but only six were of contract grade.

Provisions ruled dull and slightly firmer with hogs. Fluctuations were very narrow. January pork closed 5c up at $14 95; January lard 5c higher, at $8 40, and January ribs 2½c higher at $7 85.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 185 cars; corn, 80 cars; oats, 190 cars; hogs, 25,000 head.

ANOTHER TACK USED TO PREVENT DUST NUISANCE

Oakland Citizens File Equity Suit Against Steel Company.

CHANGE OF FURNACES ALLEGED

E. R. Sullivan and William J. Brown Claim Frequent Explosions Throw Clouds of Ore Dust Over Their Properties.

Another fight was waged against the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company yesterday in common pleas court No. 2 for maintaining an alleged nuisance in operating its furnace along Second avenue, Fourteenth ward. The plaintiffs in two bills in equity are E. R. Sullivan and wife, owners of property in Frazier street, and William J. Brown, possessor of property at Bouquet and Frazier streets. Attorneys Patterson, Sterrett & Acheson represent the plaintiffs.

It is set forth that in 1890 the company made changes in its furnaces when it introduced Mesaba ore. From the manner in which the ore is placed in the furnaces, and on account of the furnaces being highly charged with gas, frequent explosions occur and great clouds of ore dust are deposited on the surrounding property.

It is set forth that this ore has destroyed herbage and trees, injuring garments, causing persons to become nauseated, requiring windows and doors to be closed, in spite of which the dust gets into the houses. The court is asked to restrain the company from operating its plant in the manner it has been doing.

BROWN PLEADED GUILTY.

Thief Who Entered Four Buildings Gets Three Years—Boys Sent to Morganza.

C. B. Brown, in criminal court, pleaded guilty to four charges of entering buildings with intent to commit felony, and was sentenced to the workhouse for three years. He was accused of entering the houses of C. W. Coffman, No. 5176 Woodworth street; Frank O'Brien, Breckenridge street, near Reed street, and Charles P. Held, No. 217 Oakland avenue, and stealing jewelry valued at about $100.

John Bacchiloff, Paul Smith and Leroy Bennett pleaded no defense to a charge of larceny preferred by Thomas J. Fay of Rankin, and were sent to Morganza. It was alleged the defendants entered the prosecutor's store on May 31 and stole burglars' tools.

The following pleas of guilty were entered, but sentences were not imposed: John Scheehan, horse stealing, by M. Leitzeiter of No. 4614 Liberty avenue; Harry Good, larceny of a silver tea set, and $15 from Catherine Miller of McKeesport; William Dean, larceny of $78 from Edward Duffield.

Shortly before 11 o'clock an unknown woman spectator had an epileptic fit in Judge Collins' court.

MRS. HAVEY FREED.

Grand Jury Refused to Indict Her for the Death of Thomas Havey—Other Returns.

The grand jury yesterday ignored the bill charging Mrs. Susie Havey of Braddock, with the murder of her father-in-law, Thomas Havey, aged 75. It was alleged that Mrs. Havey beat the old man, breaking his collar bone, and jaw. However, these injuries are said to have been received by falling down a flight of steps.

The following other bills were returned:

JUROR HAD A BOTTLE.

Judge Evans Discharged F. E. Morgan for Drinking in the Jury Room.

F. E. Morgan, a salesman of the Thirteenth ward, Allegheny, was called to task yesterday by Judge Evans, who told him that men who carry bottles cannot serve as jurors.

Morgan was on the jury in the case of E. M. McChue against H. E. Estep, an appeal from an alderman's decision. The jury was out all night and they stood 11 to 1. Two of the jurors informed the court that Morgan had a bottle of whisky. Morgan said he was not the only man who had been drinking, implicating the foreman, Noah Whitehead of the Twenty-fifth ward. The latter explained that he was sick and that his bottle contained medicine. Then Morgan spoke up:

"You know, I have heart trouble, and it is necessary for me to carry a bottle and take a drink now and then."

Judge Evans replied: "This court cannot have men for jurors who carry a bottle and take a drink now and then. You are discharged from further service as a juror."

By the will of John Downes of Allegheny, an estate worth $4,000 goes to his widow.

In the United States district court Samuel W. Hill was discharged from bankruptcy. About 20 aliens were naturalized.

Charlotte Thorp took out letters of administration on the $1,500 estate of Robert Thorp. Attorney Alexander Gilfillan has charge of the estate.

Non-suits were granted in the cases of John Stacko against George Jacobs et al.; Catherine Meechair against Chartiers township, and the Singer, Nimick Company.

N. P. Sawyer, Attorney J. Charles Dicken and Attorney Henry A. Davis sued the Southwest Pennsylvania Pipe lines and the Atlantic Refining Company for damages aggregating $11,000 for trespass on property in the Eighteenth ward.

The will of Alexander M. Crawford of Allegheny was filed. Property at Emsworth is left to the decedent's widow. A farm in Ohio township goes to a son, Gilbert, when he arrives at the age of 21. The estate is valued at $5,300.

A statement was filed in the case of Charles G. Woods and Mary F. W. McDonald against the Pennsylvania Water Company. The plaintiffs want $15,000 damages as the result of the defendant running a 42-inch main through their property in Penn and Sterrett townships.

In orphans' court Charles O. Lappe filed exception to the account of the administrator in the estate of John C. Lappe. The exceptant charges he should not be charged with notes of $3,000 and $5,077 49 for the reason that before his death the decedent relieved the exceptant from all liability for their payment.

John F. Stewart took out letters of administration on the estate of Mary H. F. Stewart of Edgewood. The estate is valued at $66,425, of which $60,000 represents real estate. The heirs are the administrator, who is a son of the decedent, and Mary Stewart Miller, a daughter. Attorney R. S. Stewart represents the estate.

An opinion reversing the judgment of Alderman John A. Martin in fining John Roth, a barber, for violation of the Sunday law of 1784, was handed down yesterday by Judge Brown. The court finds that the information did not contain a positive charge against the defendant. A similar case from the same alderman against William Robinson was also reversed.

Opinions were handed down yesterday by Judge Buffington of the United States circuit court, in the cases of the Beet Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh against the Lawrenceville Bridge Company, the Fox Copper & Bronze Company, the Lawrenceville Bronze Company, and the Republic Iron & Steel Company. New Autumn Styles in Tailor-Made Suits.

New! New!! New!!! That's the key-note to the exhibit of beautiful suits we are showing—new in fabric, new in design and new in the many little things that go to make up a suit that we think good enough to sell.

Shall we be called egotistical if we have a pride in doing the fine garment business of Pittsburg? It is very flattering to have that reputation.

True, our styles have a character that is all their own, but that is a right they possess. We select our materials, we build up or tone down our styles, we plan—and the workers are glad to carry out our ideas. That's why our styles are different.

And the best of it is our perfect styles cost no more than the hackneyed effects that one meets at every turn—often less.

Our new Fall Tailor-Made Suits have this price range: $20, $25, $30, $35 and on to $60.

All up to our standard of workmanship. The new Blouse, the most charming ever designed; the new short or long Norfolk; the new dress Coat effects—all shown with the newest box-pleated, side pleated habit or inverted back, with flounce flare or plain flare bottoms. Trimmed with silk braids, velvet or silk. All the correct colors in tweeds, cheviots, paons, zibelines, camel's hair, broadcloth and crashes.

Enough are on sale to give you a complete insight of what's to be "the thing."

The New Autumn Silk Waists.

European arbiters of fashion say the silk waist will be in vogue this Autumn as never before, and most surprising of all, for the social occasion.

We are showing an almost endless variety of entirely new creations, that have that indescribable touch that is a feature of our separate waists.

And that indescribable touch is on the least expensive waist, as well as the one that will cost you quite a sum.

New Silk Waists made of rich lustrous silks after the most approved models recently imported, trimmed with lace, pleats, piping and stitching—new designs and new colorings—$8, $10 and $15, and in the more elaborate waists up to $40.

New Silk Waists at $5. A feature of the largest Silk Waist collection in this city, is our range of styles at $5. They are of either silk Taffeta, Peau de Soie or Louisine, in the new Autumn colorings, as well as in black or white. The designs are charming, and the idea in pleating, stitching, folds and tucks is carried out as admirably as in the finer waists. The women who buy silk waists often and who think $5 is enough to pay will find their ideas practically illustrated in our showing.

New Cotton and Flannel Waists.

The new vestings, piques, crashes, poplins, brilliantines, linens and French fabrics are both practical and charming.

The heavier cottons are most wanted and for good reasons; they wash without shrinking; they retain their shape perfectly, and the more frequently they are laundered the better they appear. Worn under a heavy or fur coat they are the ideal garment; worn without a wrap for early wear they have the smart look that every woman likes.

We show them in all new styles, both white and colors, at 95c, $1.50, $2, $3, $3.50, $5 to $10.

Velvets, also, are to be largely worn, and we have waists, plainly tailored, in black, royal and brown velvet, with pearl ball buttons, at $7.50.

Fisk, Clark & Flagg Flannel Waists in plain colors or the new "Defender" stripes at $5, $6 and $8. Exclusive designs.

The New Silk Skirts.

The popularity of the silk skirt will be much greater than last season. That has been settled.

Our lines are complete, both in style, brilliant colors, as well as the preferable black.

Such silks as peau de soie, taffeta and Japanese moire.

Your attention, please, to something quite special:

We have a splendid Black Taffeta Skirt to sell for $5. It is a great value for that price. There are two styles; one a three-section skirt with a ripple flounce; the other with deep flounce which is tucked and has dust ruffle. We cannot impress upon women too strongly that this particular skirt is something extra good for $5.

Women's Excellent Stockings 25c.

But in buying them the buyer gets a stocking selling regularly for 35c and 50c.

A lot comprising two excellent grades in fall weights. Black and colored Egyptian Cotton in solid color grounds, the insteps embroidered in various pretty designs of contrasting colors.

Early Autumn Dress Materials.

The Dress Goods department is outdoing itself, comparing former efforts. Foreign dress goods and American dress goods are tumbling over each other in their haste to get a showing, and many new weaves and colors are confined to us for Western Pennsylvania.

Among the new arrivals are 12 new shades in silk and wool Crepe Berege, 42 inches wide, at $1 a yard. This material is an exact copy of the $2 and $2.50 grades.

50 distinct styles of English Costume Tweeds took a place on our counters yesterday. They come from one of the best of West of England manufacturers. For the street and tailor gown, and the unlined skirt, they are admirable. $1.50, $1.75, $2 to $4 a yard.

56-inch melton cloth—castor, oxford gray, blue and brown, at $2 the yard. Specially for tailored dresses and stitched skirts.

Also 54-inch Velour Cloth—navy, castor, brown and new blue—at $2 a yard.

Rogers' Patterns of Silver Plated Flatware.
